To Reject Claim U.S. Shot Down Russian Plane

Soviets Destroy B50
Bomber Off Siberia;
May Have Survivors

WASHINGTON (AP)—U. S. officials drafted today a rejection of Russia's protest that American pilots shot down a Soviet plane—and pondered the curious timing of the Russian communication.

American fighter planes downed the Soviet craft Monday in the dying hours of the Korean War. The United States says it was over Korea.

The Russians said U. S. fliers shot down one of their passenger planes in Red China July 27. Earlier, the U. S. Far East Air Force had announced jet fighter Ralph Parr of Apple Valley, Calif., had shot down an IL12 Russian-built transport over North Korea, south of the Chinese border, at noon Monday, 10 hours before the freshly signed Korean armistice went into effect. The Russians waited four days before making their report and protest.

In the meantime, on Wednesday, their MIG15 fighters had attacked and destroyed a U.S. B50 bomber off Siberia. They charged this aircraft violated Soviet territory. The U. S. denied this, protested "in the strongest terms" and demanded a report on some survivors said to have been picked up by the Russians.

U. S. officials wondered, considering the ceaseless contest between East and West for propaganda advantages, why the Russians had delayed and then protested. Were they attempting a bold cover-up for their own action?

Meanwhile, two senators complained bitterly that the United States had been outfoxed.

Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.), a member of the armed services committee, said that letting the U.S.S.R. tell the world first about the B50 incident in the Sea of Japan was "just another case of stupidity at the Pentagon or the State Department, or both."

Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said: "I think it's a mistake to let the Russians and Communists get the jump on us so many times. It puts us continually in the position of answering Communist propaganda when we could be out first with the real facts."

Flanders said pro-Communist or even neutral peoples could "get the impression that the Soviet is telling the truth and that we're trying to get out of an incident."

Both senators expressed their opinions in interviews.

The U. S. case on the B50 was bolstered by the testimony of the sole confirmed survivor, Capt. John Ernest Roche, who was picked up by a U. S. destroyer after 22 hours in the sea.

Roche said in Tokyo early today the American plane was attacked "without provocation" by one or two Russian jets at a time when there was "no possible chance" it was closer than 40 miles to Siberia.

As for the shooting down of the Russian type IL2 transport while the Korean War was still in progress, a State Department spokesman said unequivocally "we will reject the protest." He said the responsibility will be placed on the Soviet government for causing the plane to fly through a Korean combat zone.

Lausche Won't Appoint Man Who'll Upset GOP In Senate

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Political prognostications were a dime a dozen today under the dome of Ohio's Capitol.

Both volunteer and professional observers were free with their forecasts of the effect of the death of Sen. Robert A. Taft on Ohio's political scene.

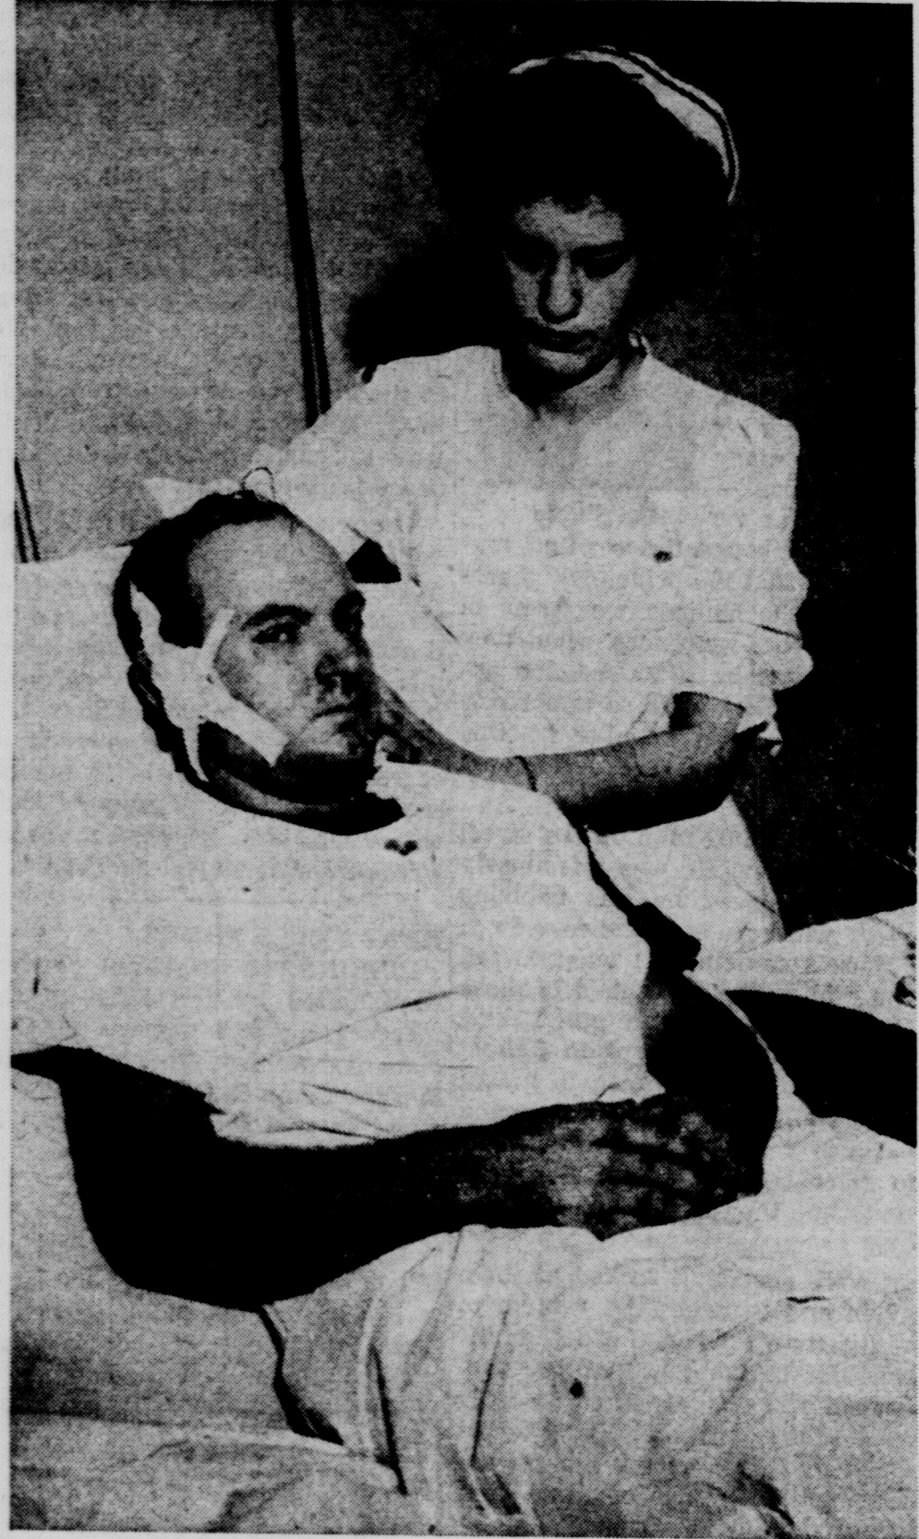

Although a deep and sincere veil of sadness hung over the Capitol, human curiosity could not be stifled.

The question was on everyone's lips: "Who will the governor appoint to succeed 'Mr. Republican'?"

There were many half-confident answers. But not even the closest friends of the unpredictable Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche pressed to be able to forecast his actions accurately.

This much appears to be certain: Lausche does not want to be, under any circumstances, in the position of upsetting Republican control of the U. S. Senate at this early stage of the administration of President Eisenhower.

While Lausche is expected to KILLER'S VICTIM—Trucker John K. Shepherd, 34, of West Alexander, Pa., seriously wounded Friday morning while asleep in his truck near Lisbon by an assailant whom police believe to be the turnpike murderer, is reported in fair condition at the Salem City Hospital today. Shown adjusting the bandage on his head is Nurse Mary Newell of North Benton.

A grim watch-and-wait game was played on Northeastern Ohio highways last night.

On one side was a gunman, probably a lone hand, who wounded a sleeping truck driver near Lisbon yesterday morning.

4-Car Mishap Probed By Police

Cambridge Woman
Motorist Is Cited

Police investigated three auto mishaps in the city Friday, one involving four cars and two fixed objects that resulted in the arrest of a woman motorist.

The lady driver, Mrs. Alberta H. Jones, 50, of Cambridge, paid a $20 forfeit pending a hearing Aug. 15, before Mayor Harry M. Vincent on a reckless driving charge.

According to police, the woman was driving down N. Lincoln Ave. at 5:50 p.m. Friday and had just passed E. 6th St. when she blacked out or fell asleep.

Her car went up over the right curb striking a red warning reflector and a city light pole. It then continued down the sidewalk, sideswiping a car parked by the curb in front of 541 N. Lincoln. The auto was owned by the A. C. Bartholomew Co. of W. State St.

From there, police report, Mrs. Jones' car continued on down the

4-Nation Truce Police Group Meets 1st Time

Commission To Watch
For Violations; Reds
Wish Team Success

MUNSAN (AP)—The four-nation neutral commission which will police the Korean armistice met at Panmunjom today for the first time and heard the Communists' chief military armistice delegate wish it success.

Meanwhile, the first group of Allied prisoners was reported on its way down the road to freedom and the U. N. Command prepared a full dress reception rehearsal for Monday to speed their homeward journey. The prisoner exchange is scheduled to begin Wednesday at Panmunjom.

The neutral commission officers from Sweden, Switzerland, Poland and Czechoslovakia were introduced and exchanged credentials in a formal meeting at the dusty truce site.

The commission's chief function is to watch for violations of the armistice.

Maj. Gen. Blackshear M. Bryan, the U. N.-Red Military Armistice Commission, introduced the Swiss and Swedish representatives. Lt. Gen. Lee Sang Cho, Bryan's counterpart on the commission, introduced the Poles and Czechs. Lee told the officers:

"I hope for the success of the members of the Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission."

The Red Peiping radio said the first Allied prisoners would be "non-Korean" sick and wounded—including Americans and British—from a camp at Pyoktong near the Manchurian border.

The radio said the prisoners were given a farewell "grand feast" before being put on trains for the trip to Panmunjom.

The Reds have said they will return 12,763 Allied captives, 3,313 of them Americans, in the massive exchange. The U. N. will deliver about 74,000 Communist POWs.

Allied POWs will be turned over by the Reds at Panmunjom, and then rushed to Freedom Village at Munsan for processing.

Monday's big practice session, a U. N. spokesman said, will cover every angle from the moment the prisoners leave Communist control until they start home.

Five U. S. Air Force C119 Flying Boxcars airlifted 29 tons of American Red Cross kits to Seoul for use by the returning Allied captives.

Miss Ohio Gets Big Welcome Back To Salem

In an impromptu demonstration, neighbors and friends of Salem's contribution to the Miss America of 1953 contest, Miss Martha Zimmerman, met her queen when she came home Friday night at 11 p.m. and paraded her in style through the city streets.

Two police cruisers, sirens howling, and 10 or 15 cars, horns blaring, led Miss Zimmerman, 1953 Miss Ohio, in a convertible loaned by Hine Motors in a circuitous route through the city.

Members of the American Legion, Band, the Junior Chamber of Commerce and other friends of the beauty queen filled the cars.

Miss Zimmerman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chalmers Zimmerman of W. 16th St. followed in another car. Bonnie Zimmerman, Martha's 15-year-old sister and Dianne Wright, a neighbor, rode in the queen's convertible driven by David White.

The impromptu parade was staged by Mr. and Mrs. James Wright of W. 16th St., neighbors of Martha, who called everyone arranging the grand welcome.

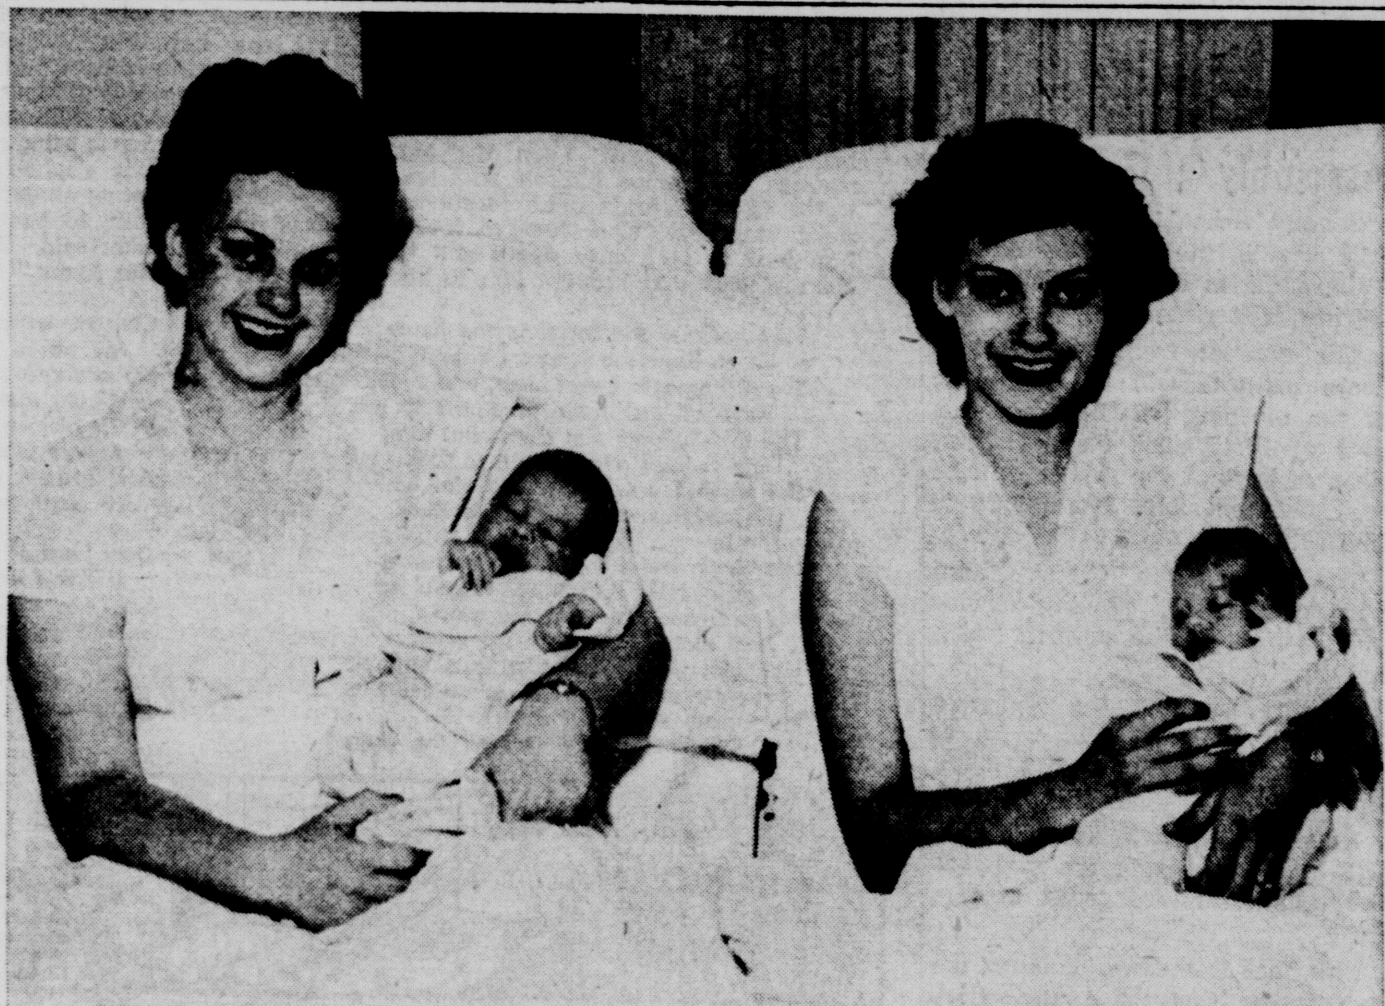

Miss Zimmerman was met at the city limits on Benton Rd. by her wellcomers.

Kim David Fields was born at 9:17 a.m. Thursday and Renae Jean Harr was born at 8:25 a.m. According to hospital authorities this is the first time sisters have given birth to babies at the clinic on the same day.

Another record was set at the Clinic last month in the number of infants delivered. According to Albert Hanna, hospital superintendent, 71 babies were born at the Clinic in July. The previous record, made in August, 1951, stood at 61.

Reds To Free 400 POWs Daily

Exchange Of Prisoners
To Begin Tuesday

MUNSAN (AP)—The Communists today informed the Allies they plan to hand over 400 Allied captives daily beginning 9 a.m. Wednesday (7 p.m. Tuesday EST).

The Reds said they will deliver the Allied POWs in groups of 10 each hour for 4 hours each day.

The Red Chinese peiping radio said earlier the first Allied prisoners released would be "non-Korean" sick and wounded, including Americans and British.

The U. N. captives "are about to start moving" down toward Panmunjom, the Communists said.

A U. N. spokesman said North Korean Col. Lee Pyong Il presented the Red schedule this afternoon to U. S. Army Col. L. C. Friedersdorf. The colonels head the teams negotiating at Panmunjom on details for "Operation Big Switch."

The Wednesday starting date had been announced several days ago, but this was the first disclosure of how many Allied prisoners would be handed over daily and what time of day the exchange will begin.

Red spokesman Wilfred Burchett of the Paris Daily L'Humanite told Allied correspondents outside the conference hut he believes sick and wounded prisoners will make up the bulk of the first exchange. The Reds have said they hold about 50 disabled Allied prisoners.

The Communists said they hold 12,763 Allied prisoners, including 3,313 Americans. The Allies are handing back about 7,000 Reds.

At the announced rate of exchange, all Allied POWs should be free after 32 days. Truce terms set a limit of 60 days from the signing last Monday for completion of the trade.

West Virginia Woman Hurt In Road Mishap

A 32-year-old West Virginia woman was treated for injuries Friday evening at Salem City Hospital after the car in which she was riding smashed into a railroad crossing pole in Signal.

The woman, Nettie Jane Clendenning, of Chester, W. Va., was riding in a car driven by Charles Clendenning, 25, also of Chester, when the driver lost control on the railroad crossing on Route 154.

Investigating State Highway Patrolmen said the mishap occurred at 8:15 p.m. The crash demolished the front of the car but the driver escaped injury, they said.

Clendenning was arrested by the Patrol for reckless driving.

2,026 Attend Playground Program Here

Exchange Of Prisoners
To Begin Tuesday

Salem's summer playlot program ended yesterday with a total attendance for the six weeks period of 2,026. Ward Zeller, playground superintendent, announced this morning.

The Centennial Park playground had the largest attendance with 873 children participating in the activities. Prospect had 660 children in attendance and the Buckeye playlot 493. Approximately 280 to 300 different children took part, Zeller said.

The attendance does not include those who participated in the tennis instruction offered by the playgrounds. The total tennis attendance has not been computed but 561 boys and girls took advantage of the free lessons through last week. Jerry Miller, tennis instructor, expects the total registration to exceed 600.

The playground program was financed by a $1,500 appropriation by the Salem city council. This was the third year for the playlots.

Marilyn Mellinger and Edward Moza were the instructors at Centennial Park. Lois Dunlap and Vince Crawford were in charge of the Buckeye program and Richard Jackson and Joyce Woodworth were the supervisors at Prospect.

The tennis classes of Jerry Miller, summer playground tennis instructor, ended their lessons this week with picnics and a tennis tournament in the advanced class.

The beginners class had a picnic at Centennial Park yesterday and Miller gave out awards to those who have been proficient in their lessons during the summer.

The advanced class had a tournament and a swimming party yesterday.

In the singles tourney Bobby Potter was the winner with scores of 6-2 and 6-1 over Joan Strojek. There were eight entries in the quarter-finals singles matches. Sue Henning, Marsha Fleischer, Bobby Potter, Jimmy Reese, Marcia Henning, Ann Baker, Joan Strojek and Stretch Horning. The semi-finals found Sue Henning pitted against Potter and Marcia Henning going against Strojek. Potter won his semi-finals matches by scores of 6-1 and 6-0. Strojek won her way to the finals with two scores of 6-0.

In the doubles tourney Joan Strojek and Sue Henning were the winners, with Bobby Potter and Marsha Fleischer the runners-up. Awards were made to the winners and runners-up in both of the tournaments.

Red Planes Fly Over N. America

12 Incidents Revealed
Of Russian Flights

WASHINGTON (AP)—Russian planes have appeared over the polar perimeter of the North American continent and "Greenland" where the U. S. has air bases and other defenses, about a dozen times within the past 12 months.

And the average of similar scouting expeditions over Japan averages about one every two weeks, a well-informed Air Force source said today.

This information was made available in answer to questions arising out of the incident two days ago in which Soviet planes shot down an American B50 bomber which U. S. officials said was flying 40 miles off the Siberian coast over the international waters of Japan.

The information was received before Russia formally protested that four U. S. fighter planes shot down a Soviet passenger plane with 21 aboard near the Chinese-Korean border last Monday.

The exact number of incidents involving forays by Soviet planes in the Arctic, the time, location and circumstances—none of this data may be given. But in only one instance, already reported, were shots fired by American airmen against the Russian aerial reconnaissance parties—when the foreign craft made a firing pass at the U. S. planes which discovered them.

The approximate dozen instances of Soviet scouting of this continent

WASHINGTON (AP)—Even though the death of Sen. Robert A. Taft may give Democrats a one-vote margin in the Senate, Republicans today appeared assured of control at least until the congressional election in late 1954.

And youthful Sen. William F. Knowland of California, who was selected by Taft to take over the heavy duties of Senate Republican leader, appeared likely to retain this post.

Morse (Ind-Ore) and attitudes of the Senate through leadership posts and committee chairmanships rested on an announcement by Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore) and attitudes of Democratic Senate leaders. Morse and the Democrats left no doubt they would not challenge the GOP hold this session or the next.

With two vacancies because of the deaths of Republicans Taft and Charles W. Tobey of New Hampshire, the Senate lineup today was 47 Democrats, 46 Republicans and 1 Independent.

When the session started last January, Republicans held 48 votes and Democrats 47 with 1 Independent. If Morse had voted with Democrats the tie could have been broken by Republican Vice President Nixon, who is president of the Senate. But Morse voted with the GOP on organization.

Tobey's replacement by a Republican appeared certain because New Hampshire's Gov. Hugh Gregg, who will make the appointment, is a Republican.

Ohio's Gov. Frank J. Lausche is a Democrat. His appointment of a Democrat to replace Taft could give that party 48 votes, with Morse holding the balance of power. Lausche has refused to discuss the matter and his political friends here insist they do not know his plans, although there was some talk he might appoint a Republican.

However, Morse, who bolted the Republican ranks during the last presidential campaign to support the Democratic ticket, told reporters yesterday he would vote to keep Republicans in control of the Senate as he did early this year and for some reasons.

Senator To Be Buried In Home Town, Cincinnati

Nation Mourns Death
Of Ohioan; President,
Wife Visit Mrs. Taft

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional leaders arranged today for a state funeral for Sen. Robert A. Taft, probably on Monday, with details to be announced later.

Jack Martin, administrative assistant to the late Senate leader, told reporters this had been agreed upon after a conference in the office of J. Mark Trice, secretary of the Senate.

Attending were Senate and House leaders and Sherman Adams, administrative assistant to President Eisenhower.

Martin said Mrs. Taft and the family had consented to the state funeral and that burial would be at Cincinnati, Taft's home town.

Taft's death yesterday, from cancer, continued to evoke expressions of grief and praise.

In the midst of their eulogies, many of the Ohio Republican's Senate colleagues had proposed that his body be brought from New York to lie in state in the rotunda of the Capitol.

The Senate recessed yesterday in respect to Taft, but the House solemnly continued in session and last night formally adopted a resolution expressing profound sorrow before adjourning out of respect.

Speaker Joseph Martin (R-Mass.), authorized to appoint a committee of 30 members to attend the funeral service when arranged, said he will name the group today.

The Tafts' Victorian red brick residence in Washington's Georgetown district kept a light burning over the doorway last night. Messengers with telegrams and flowers kept appearing in its glow.

Cars drove up the quiet tree-shaded street, paused and drove on.

Mrs. Taft—survivor of the "Bob and Martha" team which had shared any a year of political campaigning—remained in her upstairs room. Confined to a wheelchair, she had flown to New York earlier this week for a bed's visit with her fatally stricken husband.

Friend Answers Door
Mrs. Darrach Wunder of Cincinnati, an old family friend who began living with the Tafts after Mrs. Taft suffered a partially paralyzing stroke in mid-1950, answered the door and the telephone.

Among the early callers were the President and Mrs. Eisenhower. The Eisenhowers visited with Mrs. Taft for about 10 minutes. The President left a letter.

In a public statement, Eisenhower had said: "The American people have lost a truly great citizen and I have lost a wise counselor and a valued friend."

This came from the man Taft had fought bitterly last year for

Our Churches

Ministerial Association Plans To Sponsor 'Truce' Services

Salem people will unite Thursday, Aug. 13, at 7:30 p.m. in a service of intercession for the truce which has been signed in Korea.

The service, under the sponsorship of the Salem and Vicinity Ministerial Association, will take place in the First Baptist Church.

According to a spokesman for the Association, the Aug. 13 service is only the beginning of concentrated and city-wide prayers for peace to be conducted during the peace talks.

A request was made at the recent Association planning session that the following Sunday, Aug. 16, be a day when all churches in the community make a special effort to centralize the Korean situation in the worship of the church.

To quote the Association's conclusions, the members declared: "That the main thing to remember is that the truce is no guarantee of peace. Therefore, we, as Christian people, should bow before God in confession and ask for His saving mercy to be extended to the world. We can bring with us at the special Thursday and Sunday services, our thoughts and best wishes for all of God's people caught in the trap of war, asking God's strength and comfort to sustain all peoples in these times."

First Methodist
Dan Keister, son of Rev. and Mrs. G. D. Keister of S. Union Ave., will be guest speaker in the pulpit of the First Methodist Church Sunday at 10:45 a.m. Mr. Keister is studying for the ministry and during the absence of the elder Keisters he and Jerry Miller, another student minister, have been supplying the pulpit of Holy Trinity Lutheran Church.

Church School is scheduled for 9:45 a.m.

Homer S. Taylor, the church organist, will play the church program and accompany Mrs. Howard Wilhelm of East Palestine, guest soloist, who will sing "How Lovely Are Thy Dwellings."

Ushers will be Loren Early, Harvey Bates, Howard Beilhart, James Cunningham, J. R. Foster, Blaine Hart and Frank Stoerkel.

Church Of Our Saviour
G. Alvin Barrett, son of Rev. and Mrs. Harry Barrett, will sing the offertory at the morning worship service Sunday at 11 in the Church of Our Saviour. Mr. Barrett, whose father is the church rector, is soloist at the Park Street Presbyterian Church at Bridgeport, Conn.

Jehovah's Witnesses
The public is invited to the meeting of the Jehovah's Witnesses Sunday at 3 p.m. in Kingdom Hall, William J. Hampson will speak on the subject, "World Peace by Church or State."

Thirty-nine delegates from the Salem congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses have returned home from the New World Assembly in Yankee Stadium in New York City which included fellow Witnesses from 97 lands.

The convention was climaxed with an attendance of 165,829 the final Sunday when "After Armageddon, God's New World" was the topic. The stadium was packed with the 91,000 people, the greatest attendance according to officials, and the remaining 49,000 persons were listening to the program from Trail City at New Brunswick, N.J.

Some 20,000 persons gave aid in the preparations for the session and during the meeting. At meal time 40,000 people were served every 20 minutes. This efficiency caught the attention of the navy and Lt. Joel Rabinowitz, assistant at the commissary of the naval office of supply at Bayonne, N.J., inspected the setup for ideas for the navy.

Three new books issued at the assembly are "New Heavens and a New Earth," "Make Sure of All Things" and "The New World Translation of the Hebrew Scriptures." The last publication was released in 73 languages, including English and dialects.

Assembly Of God
Sunday School will convene at 9:30 a.m. in the Assembly of God Tabernacle in charge of Harold Barnes, superintendent.

The quartet from the Eastern Bible Institute will be in charge of the morning service which begins at 10:45 a.m. Rev. Tucker, dean of boys at the school, will be the guest speaker. The public is invited.

The pastor, Rev. C. W. Hahn, will speak at the evening service at 7:45 p.m. on the subject, "Lifting Up."

Tuesday morning the Women's Missionary Council will meet at the church in charge of Mrs. Rilda Fowler.

Evangelist Opal Selzer of Akron will be in charge of the midweek prayer service Wednesday at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Ione Dames will conduct the service for Christ's Ambassadors Friday evening in the church.

Nazarene Church
Edward Shoff, superintendent, will be in charge of the Sunday School hour at 9:45 a.m.

The pastor, Rev. E. M. Parks will present the message Sunday at 11 a.m. service, "Christian Perfection" will be the sermon theme. His topic in the evening at 7:45 will be "Why Are You Not a Christian?"

Raymond Kelley will be in charge of the young people's service Sunday at 7 p.m. Mrs. Lyman Miller will conduct the meeting of the junior society also set for 7.

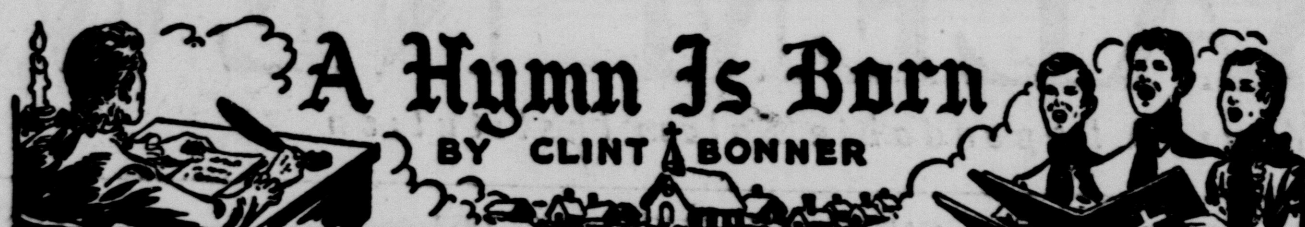

Wednesday evening at 7:45 the former missionary, Rev. Robert D. Danielson, will be guest speaker in the church. He will show color films on "Native Life on Barbados and the Island of Trinidad." The public is invited.

First Christian
Rev. Robert Whetstone, student at Yale Divinity School, who is on the staff this summer at Camp Christian near Magnetic Springs, will be supply pastor during August at the First Christian Church.

The pastor, Rev. E. S. Scott, and his family will be on vacation.

Sunday School at 9:30 a.m., the devotion will be in charge of the Christian Youth Fellowship. A report will be given on the Christian Youth Fellowship at Camp Christian. Warren Stewart will teach the adult classes.

Miss Barbara Cameron will be guest soloist at the worship service at 10:30 a.m. Serving communion will be Harvey Harris, Warren Stewart, Harry McCartney, Frank McConner, LeRoy Beery, S.

A Hymn Is Born

BY CLINT BONNER

How Tedious and Tasteless

The director announced the number and the choir turned to "How Tedious and Tasteless the Hours." Some of the younger members grinned. The title didn't make sense. To me, it was No. 153 on a list of hymns I was having recorded for a series of radio programs. To a motherly lady in her 70s, there was a deeper meaning than either a number of a title. At first she smiled gently but when she looked up I saw moisture in her eyes. Then the director motioned for rehearsal.

The life of Capt. John Newton is drama from the day he was launched in 1725 until his hull was scuttled in 1807. Half orphaned at 8, he sailed with his sea captain father, deserting the British Navy at 18, he was caught, put in irons and flogged in public. Defiant, he escaped and signed on the filthiest craft that ever sailed the sea—a slave ship. At 23, as master of his own rotten slave, he bought human beings in Africa and sold them to the colonists in America.

Came his chance reading of Thomas Kempster's book, "Imitation of Christ"—then his reflection over his checkered past. Then the storm when he manned the pumps himself with water up to his waist, and the prayers he forgot as soon as the storm was past. The siege of fever that brought him face to face with death and the sermon by John Wesley that brought him to his senses.

How tedious and tasteless the hours
When Jesus no longer I see!
Sweet prospects, sweet birds, and sweet flowers,
Have all lost their sweetness to me.
The mid-summer sun shines but dim;
The fields strive in vain to look gay!
But when I am happy with Him,
December's as pleasant as May.

His Name yields the richest perfume,
And sweeter than music His voice;
His presence dispenses my gloom,
And makes all within me rejoice:
I should, were He always thus near,
Have nothing to wish or to fear;
No mortal so happy as I;
My Summer would last all the year.

Content with beholding His face,
My all to His pleasure resigned,
No changes of season or place
Would make any change in my mind;
While blest with a sense of His love,
A police a toy would appear;
And prisons would palaces prove,
If Jesus would dwell with me there.

Dear Lord, if indeed I am Thine,
If Thou art my sun and my song,
Soy, why do I languish and pine,
And why are my Winters so long?
Oh, drive these dark clouds from my sky,
Thy soul-cheering presence restore;
Or take me unto Thee on high,
Where Winter and clouds are no more.

repentance Sunday at 10:15 a.m. in the Emmanuel Lutheran Church. His sermon theme, "Peace in a Confused World" will deal with the Korean truce, and he will take his text from Colossians 1: 19-20.

Sunday School at 9 a.m. will be in charge of Lee Schaefer, superintendent.

The pastor's adult Bible class will convene Sunday at 9:15 a.m. Sunday School officers will meet Monday at 8 p.m.

The church council will meet on Wednesday at 8 p.m.

First Friends
Rev. Kenneth L. Marsh of Mt. Gilead will speak on "Salvation Is Of The Lord" at the Sunday morning worship service in the First Friends Church. Rev. Marsh, guest minister, is replacing the pastor, Rev. Harold B. Winn who is on a trip to The Holy Land. The evening gospel service is at 7:30. Mrs. Harold B. Winn is director of the choir.

A missionary offering will be taken at the Bible School hour, 9:45 a.m. This school contributes toward the support of Delores Sartton Ehinger, missionary in Africa. Gordon Allen, superintendent, will be in charge. Ray Wallace is assistant superintendent.

The Ministry and Oversight Body will hold a meeting at 6:30 p.m. Sunday in the Steady Gleaners room. The adult prayer service is scheduled for 7.

Mrs. Glendon McKenzie is president of the Christian Endeavor Society, which meets at 6:30. There will be a surprise speaker.

Henry Wolfgang will be in charge of the Prayer service at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday. Kenneth Byham of the East Goshen Friends Church will be guest speaker.

The Damascus Quarterly Meeting, made up of Friends churches in this area, will convene in the Salem church Friday evening and Saturday.

Elders and overseers from the various churches will be dedicated at the Ministry and Oversight meeting at 7:30 p.m. Friday.

Three services are scheduled for Saturday as follows:
Prayer and praise service at 10: public meeting at 11, with Rev. Amos N. Henry of Cleveland, former pastor of the Damascus Friends Church, speaker. Business session at 1 p.m. Officers will be elected and annual reports given. Rev. Henry will also speak Friday evening.

Delegates to the Ministry and Oversight session include Mrs. Homer Ellyson, Frank Coulson, Loren C. Pim, Mrs. Ralph Walker, and Mrs. Edgar Derr. Five delegates to the Saturday sessions are Mrs. Naomi Groner, Mrs. Howard McPherson, Mrs. Raymond S. Rother and Mrs. Derr.

Confident Living

By DR. NORMAN VINCENT PEALE
Peace For The Troubled Mind

The purpose of this column is to help my readers who may need it to find the secret of peace for the troubled mind.

There is such a secret, and it is readily available to those who seek it. It is neither complicated nor difficult. All you need do is apply the simple principles of your religion. A great fact about religion which, unfortunately, all too many people miss, which I have

Dr. Peale forgotten about all too often myself—is that the principles, teachings and techniques we learn in our churches will work when they are believed in, practiced and applied. And they work so effectively that people who stumble on this easy-to-find secret are amazed by the results.

I met a young man on the street the other day. He was infectious buoyant; indeed he was bubbling over with a great discovery. "There's something I want to tell you," he said. "I got hold of those 'How Cards' you give out. I read your ten rules on 'How to Relax.' They didn't mean much to me at the time, but I kept them around because I figured I really needed to know how to relax and maybe sometime they would come in handy."

"Well, one day I looked at them again and thought I'd try them to see if they worked. I went at the rules for relaxing just as you suggested. What happened was a truly wonderful experience. Now I'm beginning to conquer my mental unrest, getting peace of mind and I'm learning how to relax."

Then he shook his head wonderingly and continued, "I wouldn't have believed this could happen to me. It's all so astonishing that I've become a regular church goer. I figure that if the practice of faith techniques can give me peace of mind, it can help me in other ways and help me to help people, too."

Then he added, "There's one thing I've found in the Bible—I've started to read it regularly since I began to take your advice—and I think the whole secret of mental peace is wrapped up in one sentence. It's this: 'Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on Thee: because he trusteth in Thee.'"

MY YOUNG FRIEND was quite right. This short Scripture passage (Isaiah 26:3) contains three practical suggestions for bringing peace to the troubled mind:

First, it tells you that all profound, continuous and lasting mental peace comes from God. As Augustine said, "Our souls are restless until at length they rest in Thee."

Second, it urges you to fix your mind on God and keep it there. Don't keep your thoughts stayed on your troubles and fears. Whenever they come to mind just practice thinking of God. The more you do that, the less effect your troubles and worries will have on you. The thought of God is the most powerful thought in this world and no lesser thought can long stand before it.

And, last, but far from least, we are told that such practice will bring peace because it stimulates trust in God. And trust in God is important. Even your government says so. Put your hand in our pocket or purse and take out a penny, a nickel, a dime, a quarter. On every one of them you will find the words that guided the founders of our country: "In God We Trust." The formula is simple. Just do the best you can and trust God. Leaving things to God after doing your full share is a most effective peace-producing mechanism.

The well known psychiatrist, Dr. Smiley Blanton, told me that in his work of helping people he teaches his patients to have faith and to practice trust. When they learn this, he says, they can overcome their fears and inner conflicts. Dr. Blanton says this Bible verse is an extremely valuable aid to mental health and peace of mind, "Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace whose mind is stayed on Thee."

Couple Plans Open House

Tennis Tourney Set At Firestone Park

COLUMBIANA — In observance of their 50th wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Yarian, both formerly of this vicinity, will have open house at their home, 1014 S. Linden Ave., Alliance, from 2 to 5 and 7 to 9 p.m. tomorrow. Mrs. Yarian, the former Myrtle Hum, is a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Hum and was born and reared on a farm two miles east of town on Route 14. Mr. Yarian is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Yarian of Unity township. A daughter, Mrs. John Edwards, lives in Baltimore, and a son, Howard, is at home. They have many relatives in Columbiana and vicinity.

Wilbur Webber of the development office of the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. in Akron is now in charge of the test station of the company at Firestone Farms here, and has moved with his family to the Lower farm on Leippy Road.

A TENNIS TOURNAMENT at Firestone Park for boys and girls of high school and junior high will begin Monday, prospective players to sign up at the park office. Trophies and medals will be awarded both boy and girl winners.

Rev. and Mrs. H. J. Scheidemantle of the Presbyterian Church left today for Yellowstone National Park, where they will spend their vacation. Rev. Mr. Scheidemantle will preach tomorrow at Columbus Grove, a former charge. Rev. G. S. Strausbaugh, 122 W. Salem St., retired Church of the Brethren minister and former pastor of Zion Hill Church here, will preach in the Presbyterian Church at 10:45 a.m. tomorrow.

Rev. Clarence E. Sittler, pastor of a church in Mt. Washington, a suburb of Cincinnati, will preach in Grace Evangelical and Reformed Church at 10:45 a.m. tomorrow. Rev. Mr. Sittler entered the ministry from Grace Church.

The Young Married Folks' class is having a home-coming festival of home-made ice cream and cake at the East Fairfield Methodist Church from 5 to 10 p.m. today.

THE SOUTH SIDE Club basted hems in crib sheets for Salem City Hospital recently at the home of Mrs. Howard J. Gaston, 436 Fairfield Ave., after a picnic dinner on the lawn.

Two games are scheduled for Firestone Park tomorrow afternoon. The game at 2:30 between the Junior American Legion team of Firestone Post of Columbiana and the Sharon Junior Legion team will be preceded at 1 p.m. by a game between Warrick's All Stars, leaders for the first half of the three-team park league season, and a picked team.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Vaughn will observe their 25th wedding anniversary with open house for relatives and friends at their home on Kelly's Park Road from 2 to 7 p.m. tomorrow.

Glenn C. Dickens and Olin K. Mowen left today for Milwaukee to attend the V.F.W. national convention which will open Monday and continue a week. Credentials were given them by Drexler Post of Columbiana. No members of the auxiliary expect to attend the national convention of the auxiliary to be held concurrently.

Fairfield was one of six Columbiana County townships in which 12-week-old pheasants received from the Ohio Division of Wild Life were released recently.

PROTEST BYRNES NAMING DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The Frontiers of America, Inc., yesterday sent President Eisenhower a telegram protesting the nomination of Gov. James F. Ambassadors Male Quartet

TO PRESENT PROGRAM—A program of music and song will be presented Sunday at 10:45 a.m. at the Assembly of God Tabernacle by the Ambassadors Male Quartet, which is on summer tour.

The quartet, traveling for the second consecutive year under the sponsorship of the Eastern Bible Institute at Green Lane, Pa., is comprised of Donald Gustafson, first tenor and violinist; Kenneth Gustafson, second tenor and trombonist, both of Jamestown, N.Y.; Joseph Vitello, baritone and pianist, from Mansfield, and Rolland Berhart, bass, from Philadelphia.

During the past semester in school the group had a series of half-hour broadcasts. Their 7,000 mile evangelistic itinerary will take them to east, mid-west and New England states.

Besides the vocal and instrumental selections by the Quartet, a faculty member at the Institute, will speak. The pastor, Rev. C. W. Hahn, extends an invitation to the public to attend.

Leetonia

3rd Location Sought For Fire Phone

LEETONIA — The volunteer fire department and the Village Council are seeking a local location for the third "Fire Phone" where emergency fire calls may be taken during the weekend hours. A recent change in the working hours at the local railroad tower occasioned the need of a third station.

Tower operators are now on a "forty - hours - a - week" basis and thus operators are not on duty over the weekend from 7 a.m. Saturday until 7 a.m. Monday. An immediate location for this phone is desired and any local resident or business place that could handle such free service is requested to contact Fire Chief G. Eldon Holt, Jr., any official of the fire department, any member of the Village Council or Mayor Paul A. Sevenich.

THE INTERMEDIATE Troop of Girl Scouts, with their leaders, Mrs. Victor Poppel, Mrs. Merle Davis and Mrs. William Flooding, will leave Sunday afternoon for six days camping at Dunn Eden Lake, near Salem. Girls attending the camp will participate in arts and crafts, swimming, boating, fishing, hiking. Wednesday evening will be "Guest Night" and parents and families have been invited to attend a basket picnic at 6 p.m.

Edward C. Greenamyer will speak at the 10 a.m. service at the Methodist Church Sunday in the absence of the pastor, Rev. R. D. Cunningham, who is on vacation.

Robert Spatholt, of Los Angeles, Calif. is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Spatholt. Denise Verner, of Youngstown, is visiting her grandparents.

Richard Clunen has returned to Norfolk, Va., where he is stationed with the U. S. Navy, after a 12-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Clunen.

COLLISION KILLS COUPLE

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A car-truck collision yesterday killed a boy and a girl, both 16 years old and neighbors. They were Kenneth Leroy Miller, son of the Rev. Paul J. Miller, and Verna Wiandt, daughter of the Rev. Charles Wiandt. Both fathers are church of the Nazarene ministers. Both families live near Grove City.

SOMETHING A MAN CAN BE SURE OF...

They say at Yellowstone National Park that you can set your watch by Old Faithful. Before the entranced eyes of countless tourists this famous geyser spouts its steaming fountain every sixty-four minutes.

Too bad there aren't more things in life that a man can be sure of . . . and more people he can call "faithful."

As we realize the multitude of uncertainties in life we understand the ageless appeal of Christianity. It has satisfied man's yearning for Certainty. In Jesus Christ and his teachings we glimpse a God who is FAITHFUL, and whose faithfulness provides the firm foundation of man's FAITH.

Join the millions who are turning to the Church to find the truths a man can be sure of!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Robert A. Taft

His countrymen were not prepared for the death of Robert A. Taft, their most respected public figure.

Not only did it happen too quickly but it left them with no replacement.

Sen. Taft was a rallying point for public confidence in government. His flawless integrity had become one of the foundations of this republic.

Millions of Americans with all shades of political beliefs shared the common conviction that Sen. Taft was on the job and would never let them down.

It is a comfort to know that this had been made abundantly clear to him long before his health failed. He knew why he had become the foremost symbol of his party and, more recently, the foremost symbol of representative democracy.

America's chances of survival are better because he proved it is possible to stand up for principles and survive the most ruthless attacks of determined opponents.

Life has been a prouder experience for millions of Americans because he showed how to make the most of the dignity bestowed on man by the power to reason, to weigh evidence and to reach objective judgments.

The prospect for public service in America is brighter because an Ohio senator endured the vilest mischief which could be compounded against him and rose to ever-greater stature on a basis of his devotion to the public welfare.

The United States will get along somehow without this man who had become uniquely important to it by virtue of his intellect, conscience, sense of fairness and courage. But its citizens pray there may be another one like him to serve as a reminder of what representative democracy can be at its best.

A special kind of grief is shared by those who knew Sen. Taft in his role as a devoted husband, proud father and good friend — and who often wished more Americans could share their appreciation of the man behind the name.

They are thinking particularly of Mrs. Taft, whose companionship meant so much to him. They are thinking of his family and its close associations.

They are thinking of those who worked with him—who were bound to him by the strongest ties of personal loyalty because they knew their loyalty was justified. They are thinking of all the people who relied on his judgment and example because they knew him well.

All these have sustained a very great loss of a kind apart from the loss sustained by America.

Considering its extent, we can be sure that Robert A. Taft must have been a man of greater stature than it is likely to be our privilege to see again for a long time to come.

Secretary Of Reality

Since one of the jobs of a cabinet member is to share grief with the chief executive, Secretary of Treasury Humphrey doesn't mind any blame he may have to share with President Eisenhower over the national debt limit.

Mr. Humphrey is, in a manner of speaking, the secretary of reality. All heads of the Treasury Department have had the same gritty responsibility of raising the money the government needs to maintain its solvency. Sometimes it has been a catch-as-catch-can process.

At the moment, the government is too well established to need to fall back on the hairbreadth financing which used to add zest to its fiscal adventures. But Secretary Humphrey still is responsible for juggling bonds and notes as they fall due, floating new issues, maintaining reserves and so on.

It is not his job to satisfy politicians or even to satisfy economists but to satisfy bankers and investors. It is for their peace of mind that the national debt limit is set and adjusted from time to time, not for the happiness of dreamers who would be happiest of all if there were no debt at all.

Remember The Name

Just one year ago newspapers were running hurry-up stories about the governor of Illinois, who had been given the Democratic presidential nomination at Chicago on July 25.

Adlai E. Stevenson then was known by name only, and even the name was new enough to give trouble to the Democratic spellbinders who had to learn to roll it off their tongues on a few days' notice. But a year later, Mr. Stevenson is still in the news.

He is on his way home from a world tour. What he has done and said has been reported every step of the way since he left San Francisco early last March. No defeated presidential candidate in American history ever was able to do this before. Someone has earned credit for a new wrinkle in presidential politics.

It is a long time until the Democratic convention of 1956, but the former governor of Illinois—no stranger now—is keeping it in sight.

The name of Adlai E. Stevenson will lead all the rest when the Democrats meet again, provided he can do in 1954 and 1955 what he has done thus far in 1953.

Witnesses Refuse To Talk Even Under FBI Cloak

"Why don't they let the FBI do it?"

For many months now this has been the outcry from those who have objected to the efforts of congressional committees to ferret out Communists and subversives in America.

For many months, also, many a witness has refused to answer questions asked by a congressional committee and has claimed constitutional immunity on the ground that the information if given might tend to incriminate him.

For many months a controversy has been going on as to whether these same witnesses would cooperate with their own government if they could do so in secret — if they could be spared the publicity.

Obviously to give such information to the FBI would be one means of helping the government and yet not making any headlines or public scandal about the mention of names of persons who might be innocent.

The Senate Internal Security Committee has just received from the FBI an analysis which shows that most of the witnesses refuse to cooperate even with the FBI.

Here is the information furnished by the FBI to the committee: "A review of 35 cases on individuals who invoked their constitutional privilege against self-incrimination when they appeared before congressional investigative committees, reflects the following information:

"1 — Thirty-three of these individuals had some type of identification with the Communist party. Of the remaining two persons one was reported as a Communist sympathizer and the other as one who associated with Communists.

"2 — Of these 35 individuals seven had appeared before a congressional committee on a prior occasion. They proved uncooperative before the committee on each appearance.

"3 — All 35 were interviewed by FBI agents. Twenty-six were interviewed before their appearance before the congressional committee; nine were interviewed subsequent to their congressional appearance.

"4 — Of the 35 interviewed by the Bureau, 28 flatly refused to talk to agents. Of the seven that did talk to agents, 3 denied allegations as to their Communist connections. They were not under oath.

"One refused to deny or affirm Communist party membership and refused to make any statement.

"One denied knowing he was engaged in espionage activity from 1939 to 1945. On a subsequent interview he refused to talk on the grounds of his privilege against self-incrimination.

"One furnished some information about Communism but did not admit Communist party membership. On a subsequent interview he refused to answer any questions.

"One gave seemingly false information regarding his knowledge of a certain individual. On a subsequent interview two years later he refused to talk.

"5 — The 35 uncooperative individuals refused to answer questions not only about their own Communist affiliations but about Communism in general. They refused to cooperate in any way with the congressional committee.

"Ten out of the 35 individuals were called before congressional sessions prior to the outbreak of the Korean War in June, 1950. All 10 were uncooperative. Of these 10, eight were called to testify after the outbreak of the Korean War; they remained uncooperative.

"Three out of the 35 individuals were called before an executive session. They refused to cooperate. Of these 3, two were then called before public sessions; again they refused to cooperate."

It will be observed that the witnesses had a chance to impart their information without testifying under oath.

Such informality aids the FBI without involving a witness in any possibility of perjury charges. Even with such protections most of the witnesses have refused to tell what they knew.

If informers were not accepted by government — indeed, in tax cases Congress has authorized the payment of rewards to citizens who help to detect criminal fraud — the jails would not contain as many convicts as they do.

Many murderers are convicted only as a result of testimony coming from witnesses who have turned "state's evidence." To discourage the acquirement of testimony in that way is to weaken the legal processes through which crime is detected and punished.

Any congressional committee which helps, therefore, the processes of disclosure by interrogating persons who have refused to cooperate with the FBI can assist in exposing conspiracies to overthrow the government of the United States.

Claims To Have

By TRUMAN TWILL

The least of us has some claim to fame. I can do these things without half trying:

Remember the page number of the book I am reading in bed when it is time to go to sleep until the next night, without using a book marker;

Use both hands with equal dexterity in eating at the table, throwing a ball, pitching horseshoes and using hand tools;

Fall asleep midway between sitting down on the edge of the bed to get ready to lie down and hitting the pillow with my head;

Estimate time within five minutes under all ordinary circumstances without having seen a clock or a watch for as long as three hours;

Grab hold of my toe-tips with my hands while in a crouching position and jump several inches off the floor — and don't try this if you have sacro-iliac trouble;

Tie a bow tie without looking into a mirror, because it is no harder than tying shoe laces without looking — and anyone should be able to do that;

Read a newspaper story from beginning to end while looking for typographical errors and find them without knowing what the story said;

Let a telephone ring itself out without getting into a stew of curiosity over who is trying to call me;

Make a set of ordinary auto tires run as long as 40,000 miles, barring accidents with broken bottles and other sharp objects;

Keep a typewriter clacking for lines at a time without looking at the keyboard though I never took a lesson;

Put on and take off an undershirt without mussing my hair, which is a much easier accomplishment than it used to be;

Loop on fishworms so they can't wriggle off the hook;

Write a page of script in a handwriting so stylized no one knows what it says;

See the same dress half a dozen times on my favorite female and think each time that it's brand new;

Start a charcoal fire without any kindling, kerosene or other assistance, except a match and a few sheets of newspaper;

Become so amused about a book that the thing becomes unbearable and must be let alone until some later time;

Eat one handful of peanuts and shove the peanut dish away for good;

Go for months at a time without smoking a cigarette;

Work within listening distance of a radio broadcast of a baseball game and not listen to a word of the broadcast.

I do not claim these things are unusual. I do not claim they are difficult. Certainly they are not getting me anywhere.

I know a fellow who can hold a broomstick with two hands and jump through the opening made by his arms and the broomstick. There is a fellow with a real claim to fame. He should go far.

So They Say

It All Looks So Easy Till You Try It Yourself

The Words In Your Hand

By BOB CONSIDINE

Mr. Considerine is a roving correspondent for International News Service.

Came face to face with a genuine miracle today. Opened the door of my house and there at my feet lay an object which, when unfolded, brought the whole world before my eyes. It was a world of war and peace, high resolve and despair, love and hate, tears and laughter — and it was all there before me.

This miraculous object was easy to lift. Its leaves were easy to turn. Yet once it had been a massive part of a tree in Canada or Sweden, a tree that had needed years to grow. The tree was felled at the proper moment, stripped of its bark by intricate devices, pulled through forests, transported down rivers, fed into the maw of a mill, mixed with strange chemicals and metamorphosed into paper.

There were words on these folded sheets of paper I found at my door. And pictures to explain the words. Here, to make these words and pictures visible and enduring, a substance named ink had been introduced — a substance made of a varnish prepared from linseed oil, resin and soap, to which the proper pigment had been added and the lot ground to a great fineness in a levigating mill.

The infirmary tragedy of war in Korea came to me, snug in my home, through the intercession of a reporter who had studied and worked for years to obtain his job, and who drank in his impression only by living with the muddled warriors and sharing their terror and bravery.

His story had been shouted into a crackling field phone, or tapped out in a battered press hostel, moved to a seething place named Pusan or a broken one named Seoul, flung across the sea of Japan by the confounding miracle of radio, revised in Tokyo, then hurried on.

In San Francisco it had been further polished and placed on a "printer," and fed electronically to hundreds of outlets at 60 words a minute. Then it had been taken off the machine, edited, interpreted in headlines that contained the spaces, reduced to metal, pressed against a yielding pulpy sheet named a matrix, which in turn gave birth to its image in metal, attached to a printing press that cost a million dollars, inked and wedded to an endless sheet of surgical paper.

It had been bound, transported in trucks, trains, planes, earmarked for me for a few pennies, and put at my door by a lad I've never seen.

The world unfolded. From Moscow there was word that deeply affected me, an intra-mob fight in the Kremlin — where previous machinations had brought to mankind an incomparable scourge, and had caused us of the free world to teeter on the brink of bankruptcy.

Puzzled by the significance of the strife, I turned to a story written by a man who had lived in Russia and who knew the purgers and the purged. And from there to stories of what the great ones had said of all this, in London, Paris, Washington, Ottawa, Mexico City, Melbourne, Manila, Rio de Janeiro, Johannesburg.

But there was so much more. There was word of the progress of the latest political revolution in our own country, of changes in the law of the land, the cost of continuing to be a citizen, the cost of a skyscraper and of a pat of butter.

Some of my future was being shaped in Washington and some of it in Panmunjom, and yet I knew it almost instantly — its scope and meaning — and, being a person who enjoys representatives by my vote, I could begin to decide then and there whether to dismiss them or retain them in office.

There was news of the atom, our smallest weapon, and of the projected carrier, our largest. The miracle in my hand took me through the Brandenburg Gate in Berlin and showed me the wrath of risen slaves. It let me into the study of Marshal Tito. I was with Adlai Stevenson in Vienna and Dwight Eisenhower in drought-stricken Texas, and with Cambodian Premier Penn Nouth in Saigon. And Marilyn Monroe in Hollywood.

I left London with the Queen of Tonga, was in the hospital with Senator Taft, and helped lasso a Hereford bull in the streets of Charlotte, N. C. I went to a stylish first night on Broadway, and to a couturier's opening in Paris.

My ball club won, my comic hero was saved in the nick of time, my wife learned how to cook and make over the entire house, my two shares of stock would stand the impact of peace, my fear of polio dispelled by gamma globulin, my slice could be cured by a change of grip.

All through the miracle I held in my hand (and had come to accept as routine) — my newspaper.

Health To You

Excessive Hairiness Can Be Controlled

Judging by the number of inquiries received by this column, women seem to worry nearly as much about excessive hairiness as they do about more serious things.

The first thing to point out is that excessive hairiness is hardly ever the result of disease, and why some of the ladies have more trouble in this direction than others is hard to say, though it often seems to be partly inherited or at least a family trait.

What are the alternatives for a woman who has so much hair that it interferes with her peace of mind? She can, of course, make the best of it, do nothing and try to forget it. This may be best if the hairiness is not too conspicuous.

Then there are the temporary things such as shaving — but this tends to thicken the hair in time — bleaching or dyeing the hair to make it less conspicuous, removing it with wax or some other substance which pulls it out by the roots, or rubbing the hairs off.

One manufacturer of a well-known device for rubbing the hairs off wrote me in distress when I did not indicate approval of this method on a previous occasion. It is not permanent, but I understand many women have found it helpful.

Then there are permanent methods of hair removal. Skin specialists and official medical organizations have issued warnings against the use of X-ray because of the dangers involved.

A few skin specialists say it can be used successfully if properly employed. But electrolysis, when properly performed, is a safe and permanent method of removing excessive hair.

Mrs. B. asks several questions: "What title does one have who removes superfluous hair? Is it a painful operation, and are they removed hair by hair? What would the approximate cost be to remove hair from the upper lip?"

In reply to the first of these questions, the person who uses an electric needle to remove superfluous hair is called an electrologist.

I have been told, though I have not tried it, that while this procedure used to be rather painful, the new methods now employed for destroying the bed of the hair make the process much faster than in the past and also practically painless.

As far as cost is concerned, I cannot give the answer, but this should be obtained from a competent electrologist and will probably vary, depending on how much hair there is to be removed.

In all probability excessive hairiness is more of a cosmetic problem than a medical one. However, it often seems to affect seriously the mental attitude of those women who have too much hair in conspicuous places, and therefore the remedy verges on medical treatment.

Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

Mission Achieved

GI beneath that small white cross
In faraway Korea,
You ask, "What was my dying for . . .
What was I doing here?"
You rate, kid, with the truly great,
By records well defined:
From Bethlehem to Panmunjom
Few died more for mankind.

II
It seemed a futile, baffling hour. . . .
Then death so far away!
"What purpose was there in this thing?"
I think I hear you say:

But, kid, you stand among the men
From Calvary to Porkchop Hill
Of whom the ages sing:
Few died for greater things.

III
Just mud and rain and snow and ice
And misery it seemed. . . .
A spell of horror in the night
Where hope so seldom gleamed;
But, kid, you shall a symbol be
To all whose ways are true. . . .
The Man who died upon the cross
Walked that same road as you.

IV
Oh, boy, beneath the small white cross
We hear you cry, "What for . . .
"What stupidity decreed this end
This was a snafu war!" . . .
But, kid, you died to set men free,
To strike the shackles from a leg
To cut a slave's taut rope,
And bid a world, "Have hope!"

V
Some men get statues in a park,
Some live in verse and song,
Some get a bust in brass or clay
Where dust shall linger long;
But your reward is something fine—
It stirs and purifies—
It is the light of gratitude
In weary children's eyes.

VI
Oh, might you roam a field once more,
Your dog "Skip" at your side;
And visit that ol' swimmin' hole
Where memories abide;
And play on hometown hills again
And yesterday you did. . . .
And hear a voice so few men hear
Say gently, "Well done, kid!"

Poland and Czechoslovakia are members of the four nation "neutral team" to supervise armistice progress in Korea, and the truce document says, "The term neutral nations is used to define those nations whose armed forces have not participated in the hostilities in Korea."—Izzatso? Poland and Czechoslovakia stood with Moscow and Pieping in the war against U.N. from the first, blocked every move for peace and were as responsible for the slaughter as any combat unit. If they are neutral then Brooklyn is neutral in a series between the Dodgers and the Giants.

The General Assembly takes over the Korean situation August 17, and it looks like a noisy late summer and early autumn.

Larry Storch, it seems to us, is among the TV comics who would be much better if he didn't try so hard to do so much.

In a recent telecast of "I'll Buy That" one of the items offered was a shop-window mannequin, and the high brass wouldn't allow it on the program until it had been "dressed!" (Ya mean the dummies can't have the same privileges as the live women on video screens! . . .)

We know a man who has had his TV set equipped with a spigot.

Postmaster General Summerfield on "Meet The Press" gave his views on what he wants to do without once mentioning the blitzed special delivery system. Not a word about restoring the old-time rule calling for a signature from the recipient of a costly special delivery letter and making it possible to find out what happened to a lost letter.

Homecoming Day Event Is On At Fairmount Children's Home

Homecoming day at the Fairmount Children's Home in Alliance started today and will continue through Sunday.

More than 300 attended last year's celebration and a larger crowd is expected this year, Superintendent G. F. Mason said.

Sunday's program will be pattern-

Retired Minister To Preach Here

Rev. E. L. Greer

Rev. E. L. Greer, retired minister who will speak this Sunday morning at 10:45 in the First Baptist Church, will be in charge of pastoral duties in the church during the vacation of the regular minister, Rev. R. J. Hunter.

Jerry Rice, Jerry H. Miller, both Salem ministerial students, Donald Hammill, Baptist layman, and Rev. R. E. Hopkins of Hubbard will preach the other four Sundays in August, but Mr. Greer will be in charge of all congregational services during that period.

Betty Schnobelen To Wed Donald Brown

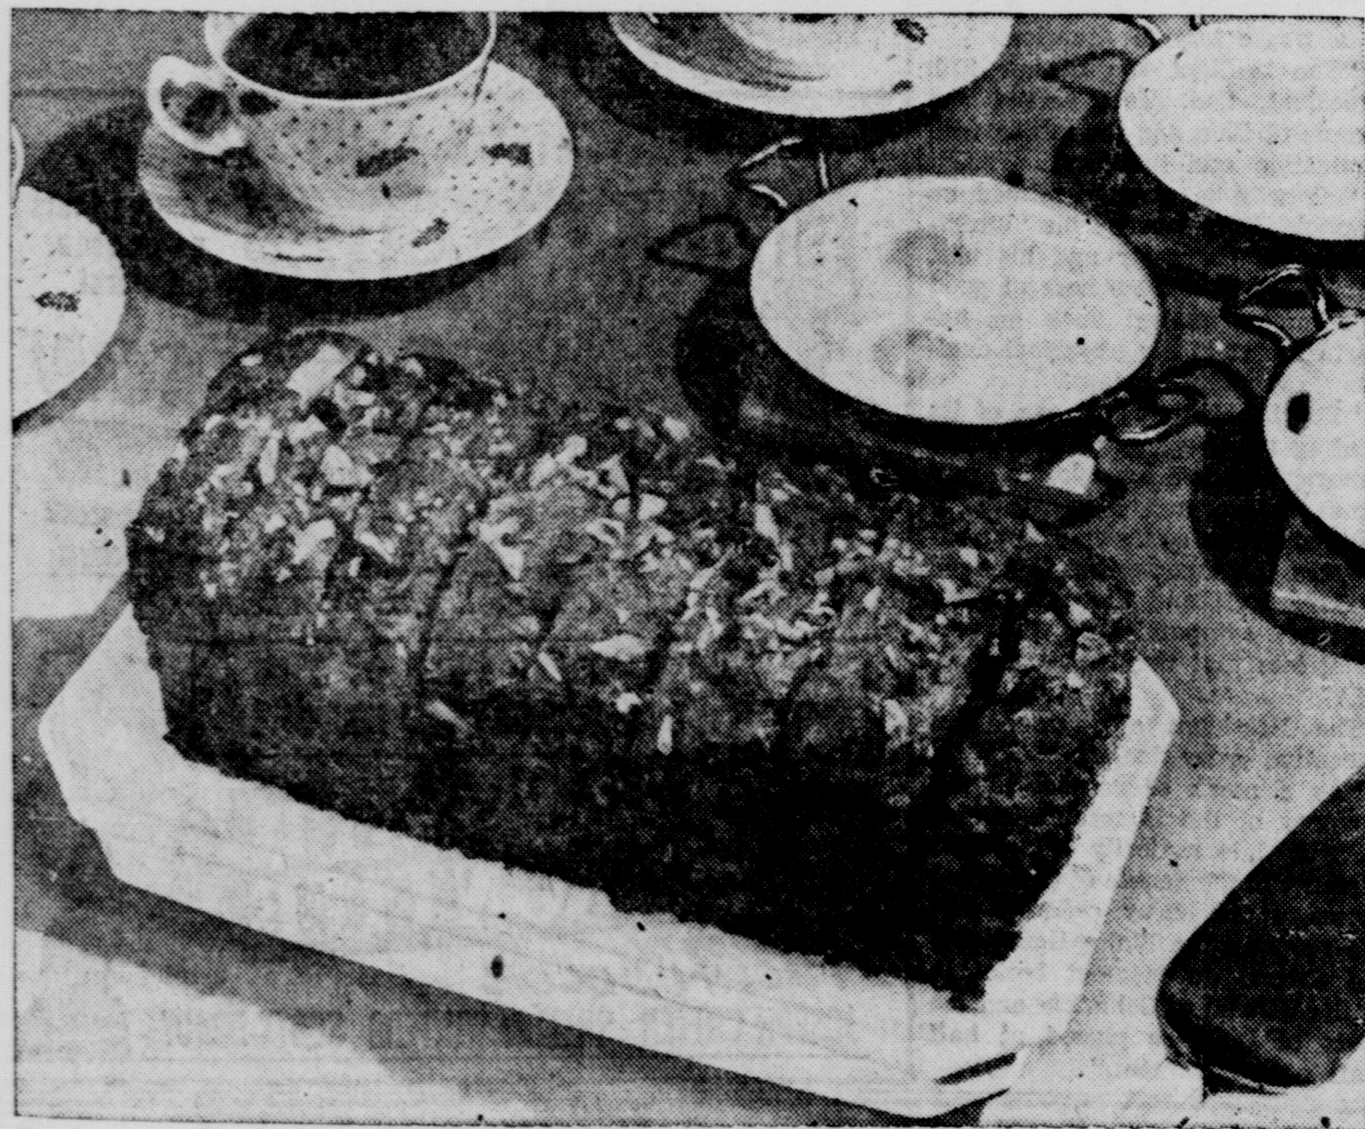

Mrs. Erma Schnobelen of RD 5, Salem, announces the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Betty Jane, to Donald Brown.

The bride-to-be, who has chosen August for her wedding date, is the daughter of Mrs. Schnobelen and Valerian Schnobelen of Iowa. Her fiancé, the son of Milo Brown of RD 1, Lisbon and Mrs. Ruth Brown of Youngstown, served two years in the army and is now an employee of the Natural Gas Company in Salem.

WIN "500" PRIZES

Mrs. Howard Krause and Mrs. Earl Solomon won the "500" prizes at the Socialite Club party on Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. William Keck on the Sebring-Pine Lake Rd. The next get-together is scheduled for Aug. 12 at the home of Mrs. Gayle Paxson on Buckeye Circle.

Nut-Crunch Loaf For Breakfast

A loaf of unsliced bread, transformed into a sugary, nut-crunch loaf, can be the crowning glory of your Sunday breakfast. And what better way to entertain these lazy days than with an easily-prepared buffet or table meal after church or late rising on Sunday.

Start off with a gay fruit cup of strawberries, orange and grapefruit sections and pineapple chunks. Then follow up with eggs glorified with a cheese sauce. Top off with this loaf served piping hot from the oven and you're sure of a successful breakfast party.

SUGARY NUT-CRUNCH LOAF

1 bar (or 1/2 cup) butter or margarine
1-3 cups brown sugar, firmly packed
1 loaf unsliced white bread

1/4 cup chopped walnuts
Let butter or margarine soften in mixing bowl, add brown sugar and cream thoroughly with mixing spoon.

Peel top crust off loaf and cut off remaining crusts. Cut down middle of loaf, lengthwise, almost through to bottom.

Then cut into 1-inch slices, crosswise, almost to bottom. Spread creamed mixture over entire surface, except bottom, and into cuts. Sprinkle with nuts.

Place on cookie sheet and tie together with string. Bake in hot oven (400 F.) 12-15 minutes, or until golden. Serve hot, Makes 8-10 servings.

Sunny Brunch Eggs:

Melt 1/2 bar (or 1/4 cup) butter or margarine in a saucepan over medium - low heat. Stir in 1/4 cup flour, 1 teaspoon salt, dash of pepper, blending until smooth. Add 2 cups milk gradually, stirring constantly.

Continue to cook and stir until smooth and thickened. Add 1 1/2 cups grated sharp Cheddar cheese and stir until cheese is melted. Remove from heat. Pour 1/2 of cheese sauce into 4 greased individual casseroles (1-cup size).

Slip 2 eggs, one by one, on to sauce in each casserole. Spoon remaining sauce into each casserole, covering all except the very center of each yolk.

Place casseroles on baking sheet. Bake in slow oven (325 F.) 20-25 minutes.

Makes 4 servings.

ENJOY NEW POOL—A large measure of fun at Camp Herrick, the Salvation Army summer camp at Mentor, is found at the new $40,000 swimming pool which was dedicated July 4.

Shown in the picture above are some of the 75 youngsters from the Salem area who enjoyed the camp facilities for 10 days recently. The counselor seated in the foreground is Bill Lellie of Steubenville, whose sister, Norma Lellie entered Salvation Army Training School in New York from the Salem Citadel. Now a lieutenant, she is stationed with the corps in Titusville, Pa.

With the addition of the pool to the camp grounds, the 1,500 youngsters who are accommodated there during the summer are given swimming lessons. Before the pool opening, donated in large part by Claud Foster of Cleveland, the children were hauled by bus to Lake Erie for a swim.

Gall Home Is Scene Of Family Gathering

A family gathering was held on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Gall near Hanoverton in celebration of four birthdays and three wedding anniversaries. Those attending included:

Mrs. Edna Cooper, and Mrs. Virginia Cooper and sons, Bobbie and Ralph of Bridgeport, W. Va.; Mrs. Clara Knotts and son, Harry Lee, of Pruntytown, W. Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cooper and son, Ronnie of Grafton, W. Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Whinery and Junior, Edna and David of Medina;

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cooper and Betty and Charles of Winona; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mountz and Kenney, Mary and Dale of North Georgetown; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cooper and Jimmie, Mary, Carol, Norman, Barbara, George and Eileen of Hanoverton; Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Whinery of Shelby; Pvt. Joseph Whinery of Fort Belvoir, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Mountz of North Georgetown; Mr. and Mrs. Leo Cooper and Kathy and Martha Jo of Winona; Mrs. Ethel Messenger and Miss Lois Getz of Salem; Miss Wanda Hall of Medina, Miss Sally Ann Inhoff of Hanoverton, and Mr. and Mrs. George Gall and children, Franklin, Eleanor, David, Nancy and Roger.

85 Persons Attend Mil-Pic-Park Picnic

Mil-Pic-Park on the New Waterford Rd. was the scene of the New Waterford Presbyterian Church and Sunday School picnic Thursday evening with 85 in attendance.

Three hay wagons took the children to the park where games provided entertainment and treats were given to all participants. The single men beat the married men in a baseball game. Women of the group enjoyed games.

PRESBYTERIANS SET PICNIC

Members of the August Committee of the Presbyterian Women's Association and their families will picnic Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Pim on the Georgetown Rd. Each family will bring a cover-dish.

Emmanuel Girls Choir Has Birthday Picnic

Mrs. Harry Peprick of New York City was a guest at the "birthday" picnic of the Emmanuel Lutheran Girls Choir Thursday night at the W. Pershing St. home of Mrs. George Woerther.

Birthday greetings were sung to Mrs. Alfred Konnerth, Mrs. Joseph Zamarelli, Miss Shirley Werner and Mrs. Roy Eichler.

Final plans were made for the annual reunion for all members and former members of the choir to be held at Centennial Park Aug. 7.

Serving on the decorating committee will be Mrs. Walter Minth and Mrs. Gilbert Timm. Mrs. Walter Linder will have charge of games.

S.U.V. Auxiliary Enjoy Picnic Supper At Park

A picnic supper and social time were enjoyed by Sons of Union Veterans and their auxiliary Thursday evening in Centennial Park.

Plans were made for another picnic in the park Aug. 20.

Mrs. Harold Huttenhower, president of the auxiliary, conducted a short business meeting when a communication from Mrs. Jennie Getz of Youngstown was read. Mrs. Getz was recently elected state president of the Sons of Union Veterans Auxiliary, and will visit the Salem group in the near future.

Salvation Army Group Holds Park Outing

Swimming and games provided entertainment for 40 people attending the Salvation Army picnic at Firestone Park Thursday.

In a watermelon eating contest, Nelson McElfresh won the prize. Other prize winners of games and contests were: Larry Hamblen, Jimmy Goodballet, Rosemary Goetz, Jesse Fish, Mrs. Jesse Grimm and Mrs. Byrne Cain.

Candidate Elizabeth Viola and Lt. and Mrs. Donald Seiler arranged the entertainment.

Goshen Harmony Club Has Picnic Meeting

The Goshen Harmony Club held a picnic meeting at Centennial Park Thursday with 33 members and guests in attendance.

Mrs. Keith Heineman, president, conducted a short business session when it was decided to omit the August meeting. The next get-together will be Sept. 24 at the home of Mrs. Lester McCrea of Duck Creek Rd.

Family Reunion Set

The 24th annual Cassa family reunion will be held Sunday, August 9, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Amstutz in Damascus. A basket dinner will be served at noon.

ITALIAN CLUB MEETS

Mrs. James Armeni and Mrs. Tony Tempesta were hostesses and served refreshments at the Thursday night meeting of the Ladies Italian Club in the club rooms on Penn. St. The next regular meeting is scheduled for Aug. 27.

SHOP AT HOME FIRST.

Miss Gloria Vincent Feted At Parties

The party Friday evening at the Clarence Votaw home on the Samuel Conkle Rd., and the brunch this morning at the George Huston home on Franklin St. are in prelude to the wedding of Miss Gloria Vincent and John Phillip Moore which will take place Sunday at 2:30 p.m. in the Winona Methodist Church.

Miss Vincent was showered with miscellaneous gifts at the Friday evening party when Mrs. William Zimmerman and Mrs. Lawrence Hipple were hostesses at Votaw's, the home of Mrs. Zimmerman's parents. The gifts were arranged beneath a large suspended sprinkling can and tiny sprinkling cans were favors.

Guests were present from Salem, Youngstown, Akron, Ashley and vicinity towns. Prizes in the games went to Mrs. Ray Lewis, Mrs. John Hoyle, Mrs. John Moore and Miss Anna Moore.

The brunch was arranged as a surprise for Miss Vincent, with Mrs. Harvey V. Warner (Lucy Huston) entertaining in the home of her parents. Gifts brought by people from Berlin Center, Warren, Salem, Youngstown and Winona were found by the bride-to-be at the end of the "good fortune trail."

Hearts and flowers, the brunch theme, was carried out in pastel colors, and sweet-peas made up the centerpiece at the table set for 12 guests.

Miss Warner will be bridesmaid at the wedding and Miss Veva Hoyle will be maid of honor. The rehearsal is planned for tonight in the church. Following the open church wedding, friends and relatives are invited to the reception at the James P. Vincent home in Winona.

County Florida Picnic Set For August 6

All Columbiana County people who have lived in Florida are invited to the annual County Florida picnic Thursday, Aug. 6 at pavilion 4, at Firestone Park.

Each family will bring a cover-dish and table service. Cream, coffee, sugar and ice cream will be furnished by the committee. R. V. Harrold of Columbiana is president of the group.

'MR. REPUBLICAN'

During his 15 years in the U.S. Senate, Robert A. Taft was known throughout the country as the most outspoken man in American politics.

Despite this, everyone, including his enemies, acknowledged his abilities. From 1940, when he first sought the GOP presidential nomination, until his most recent activities as Senate majority leader, the 63-year-old Ohioan was a national and international figure, admired or hated here and abroad.

Few people were neutral about Taft. One of his greatest political accomplishments came in Ohio's Senate race during 1950. Bucking a tremendous campaign against him by organized labor, which was determined to oust him from his Senate seat, he personally outmaneuvered his opposition and rolled to victory with one of the largest majorities ever given to a candidate in Ohio.

Camera Highlights in the Life of Ohio's Great Sen. Robert Taft

SOLDIER BOY—At seven, a proud member of the Buckeye Cadets, in his home town, Cincinnati. They drilled under a real Army officer.

STUDENT—This is Bob Taft at Yale. At 21, he was graduated first in his class, in 1910. He repeated this record at Harvard Law School, graduating in 1913. The next year he married vivacious Martha Bowers, daughter of his President father's solicitor general. They had four sons, William Howard Taft III, Robert, Lloyd and Horace.

FAMOUS FAMILY—Taft's father was 26th President of the U. S. and later Chief Justice. His grandfather was in President Grant's cabinet. Bob Taft was 19 when this picture was made, just before William Howard Taft became President. With Taft and his father are his mother, brother Charles and sister, Helen.

POLITICIAN—This is Taft at 23, a member of the Ohio House of Representatives. He served from 1921 to 1926 and in 1930 made the State Senate.

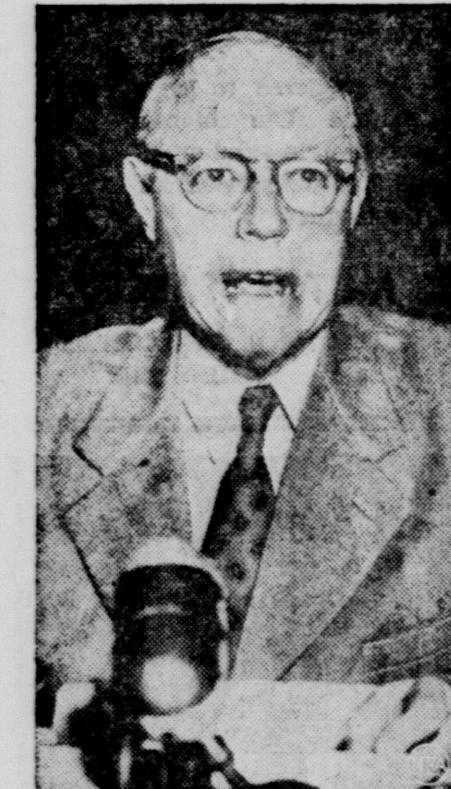

TAFT TEAM—Bob and Martha became a noted political team. Her lively personality offset his serious one. Shoulder to shoulder, they campaigned until her illness forced retirement.

TAFT-HARTLEY—Taft earned the wrath of organized labor by sponsorship of the Taft-Hartley law. Bitter foe John L. Lewis dubbed it the "slave labor act." Here are Taft and Lewis at Taft-Hartley hearing.

THREE-TIME LOSER—Thrice denied his life's ambition—the Republican nomination for President—Taft displayed no bitterness at his final defeat by General Eisenhower. On the contrary, as majority leader he united dissident GOP forces.

LEADER—He fought in Congress for President Eisenhower's program. The expected Ike-Taft "showdown" never came.

AILING—The country was shocked when a serious hip ailment, requiring surgery, put him on crutches and forced his retirement as majority leader.

Cull Out Boarders In Poultry Flock

There is a simplified way to cull out those "rent-free" boarders in your poultry flock.

"Even with good current egg prices you'll be dollars ahead," says a national farm journal. "It will cut costs by the first of the year, when eggs from a large second crop of pullets will start pulling prices down."

Many flock owners make hens pay their way in this uninvolved culling system:

1. Cull out the yellow. When housed, the best pullets of the yellow-skinned breeds have bright yellow beaks and shanks, and yellow-pigmented vent and eye ring. Those that lose yellow pigment first are usually the most intensive layers. Pullets retaining yellow spend too much time everywhere but on the nest.
2. Get rid of the late maturers. At pullet housing time, weed out those undersized, slow-to-develop birds. Market the last 10 percent to start laying.
3. Remove the poorly. This should begin with the chicks, continue with pullets and never end with the layers. Get rid of crippled and deformed chicks, those with slow and incomplete feathering, and those that don't learn to eat or show shrunken shanks and bodies.

When pullets are ready for laying quarters, cull out those with sharp beaks, ruffled feathers and pale, thin shanks, caused by loss of weight, lameness, blindness or tumors. Watch and strike out any that look sickly.

How much time does culling take? "At most I spend three hours a month culling," says a Kansas flock owner. "I have 1500 sexed chicks I started with the first of this year. That's heavy culling."

His hens must maintain 65 to 70 percent production to keep out of the noodle pot. He claims those culling hours make good wages.

GET PAY BOOST

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (P)—Workers at the Ohio Ferro Alloys Co. plant at nearby Philo received a 20½-cent an hour boost in pay today. The new basic scale of $1.57½ an hour is the same as in major steel plants, a joint announcement by the company and the CIO United Steelworkers Union said.

House Approves Debt Limit Hike

Senate Opposition May Delay Bill

WASHINGTON (P)—President Eisenhower's 11th-hour plea for a 15-billion-dollar boost in the national debt ceiling goes to a highly uncertain fate before a dubious Senate Finance Committee today.

The House gave the President a roaring victory on the politically explosive issue by a 239-158 vote last night. Then House Republican Leader Halleck of Indiana announced the House should be ready to quit and go home by tonight.

But there appeared to be far more opposition in the Senate, particularly among the Democrats. And the Senate Democrats are in a majority now, 47-46 over the Republicans, because of the deaths of Senators Charles Tobey (R-NH) and Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio).

The Finance Committee session was called to meet behind closed doors, with Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey as the star administration witness.

He had a tough selling job on his hands. More than half of the 15 committee members were on record as being actively against the proposed hike in the 275-billion-dollar ceiling, or at least highly doubtful about it at this time.

Humphrey has said that, if the ceiling on what his country can legally owe is not boosted to 290 billion dollars, the government might not be able to meet its payroll or pay its bills. And that, he contends, "would just cause a near panic."

Sen. Millikin (R-Colo.), the committee chairman, said Humphrey—one of the most respected Cabinet members on Capitol Hill—would be given "all the time he needs to state his case."

Millikin, who also is chairman of the Conference of All Republican Senators, was making no predictions and not even announcing his personal position. But the administration obviously was counting on him to help pick up some doubtful votes.

Hanging on the committee's decision was the question of when this Congress can close up shop.

The leaders had been figuring for weeks on this as the last day. But the request to boost the debt limit and the death of Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) upset the reckoning.

Sen. Knowland of California, acting Republican leader since Taft fell fatally ill, announced yesterday that he and three other Senate leaders had shelved plans to fly to Korea tomorrow with Secretary of State Dulles.

Knowland, Democratic Leader Wyndon Johnson of Texas and Senators H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) and Russell (D-Ga.) said they felt they had to stay in Washington until the debt limit issue was settled.

The deadline for adjournment by tonight still could be met if the Finance Committee rejected the debt plan. Most of the other legislative business is cleaned up.

A compromise $6,652,522,390 foreign aid money bill, approved finally by the House 237-156 yesterday, is up for Senate concurrence today.

Lausche Recalls Abuse Of Taft In Campaigns

COLUMBUS, Ohio (P)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche spoke with tears in his voice of Sen. Robert A. Taft and said:

"In my lifetime no man in public life has been so abused."

The governor made the statement in a private conversation with a state official and part of his staff.

Gov. Lausche recalled that during the 1950 campaign for re-election waged by Sen. Taft in every county in Ohio, the senator was the target for an egg thrown during a visit to a Youngstown industrial plant.

At the time, Lausche was campaigning for his third term as governor. Word of the egg-throwing reached him as he prepared to deliver a set speech elsewhere in the state.

The governor threw away his prepared text and launched into a tirade against such practices. Lausche in many ways has expressed his admiration for Taft, although they were on opposite sides of the political fence.

SUES RAILROAD

CINCINNATI (P)—Gaythor Louis Shaffer, West Portsmouth, asked judgment of $200,000 yesterday against the Norfolk & Western Railway Co. His suit, filed in U. S. District Court, charges Shaffer was injured in an accident Feb. 12 while working as a car inspector in the west yard in Portsmouth.

Ban On Slots May Bankrupt Southern Town

TALLULAH, La. (P)—About every service this city provides its 3,000 residents is threatened with curtailment today because of a slot machine ban.

Ninety-five slot machines, you see, financed the operation of this city's government—right on up from collecting garbage to building football stadiums.

Louisiana, through State Superintendent of Police Francis Grevenberg, ordered a crackdown on all forms of gambling effective last Saturday night.

Even church bingo games were outlawed.

Tallulah's 95 machines were carted from drugstores, general stores, cafes and barrooms.

Now the problem is how will Tallulah beat off the threat of bankruptcy. One civic leader predicted that taxes "will be tripled if the clamp remains on gambling."

Tallulah and sparsely settled Madison Parish (county) received about $150,000 a year from slot machine revenue. That's a pretty good return when you consider that the machines were set to return 85 cents on every dollar invested.

Mayor W. P. Sevier Jr. said unless the machines are returned his community faces "critical problems" because "The taxes we collect won't even pay for our garbage collections."

An organization named Associated Charities operated the machines, collected the money, and distributed the income to the city and parish.

M. M. Bloom, a member of a committee which directed Associated Charities, explained its workings this way:

Each month Associated Charities distributes its entire income to city and parish government agencies, charity organizations and other groups.

The organization is operated by a group of members who receive no pay. In fact, the organization has only three paid workers: a man who collects money and two clerical workers.

State Sen. A. L. Sevier, chairman of Associated Charities, explained:

"We keep everything we do above board and any citizen can come in and look at the records just as he can go to the courthouse and see public records."

Bliss, Salem Tool Win In County Softball Tournament

Close Scores Mark Games

Three Contests Set For Tonight

By LOWELL FLEISCHER

The Bliss edged Demings, 5-4, and Salem Tool edged Carrollton, 9-8, in county softball tournament action last night at Kelley Field. Neither Deming or Carrollton is out of the tourney since it is being played on a double elimination basis.

Sam Pridon and Wink Miller led the Bliss hitting with two hits each. The Bliss hurler, Dick Jackson, gave up five hits to Deming batters. Dick Boughton, Dick Wyss, Schone, John Zines, and Eddie Duco each had a hit for the Demings nine. Pete Davis and Jackson both hit safely once for the Bliss.

The Bliss led off with two runs in the first inning on a home run scored by Sam Pridon with Jack Rance on board. The Bliss scored two more runs in the third inning when Miller started off with a single. Rance sacrificed, and Davis singled, driving in Miller and Ehrhart.

Demings came up with two runs in the bottom of the fourth when Wayne Hahn and Duco both walked and Al Zocolo and Wyss were safe on errors. Demings scored two more runs in the last of the sixth. Duco walked, Wyss singled and Schone singled, loading the bases. Then Zines walked, one run coming in, and Zocolo drove in the tying run.

The Bliss scored the winning run in the top of the seventh inning when Miller singled driving in Jackson who had singled and had been sacrificed along.

The winning Tool nine also scored two runs leading off in the first inning. Ken Warner walked, John Volio was safe on an error, Benny Roelen walked and then Jerry Ball and Tom Cope both singled. Carrollton, the only out-of-town team entered in the tournament, scored four runs in the third frame on four singles and two Tool errors.

Tool also scored in the third inning when Roelen and Ball were safe on errors. Tommy Pastier walked, filling the bases, and Joe Billet singled driving in two runs. Carrollton scored two more in the fifth after Salem Tool added another in the fourth.

In the Tool fifth, Roelen walked and Ball and Pastier both had long singles scoring two runs. Tool got two more in the sixth.

Carrollton was held to two runs in the top of the seventh, Tool winning by one run. Bill Herman was the winning Tool pitcher, giving up eight hits. Tool had a total of eight hits.

Ball led the Tool batting with two hits. D. Williamson and R. Noble each had two hits for Carrollton.

Tonight at 7 p.m. Deville Grocery (Butler Grange) will face Salem Tool. At 8:15 Deming will play Carrollton and in the last game of the evening the Bliss will play the winner of the Deville Grocery - Salem Tool game.

Senators Nip White Sox, 2-0; Yanks Blast St. Louis, 11-5; Dodgers Edge Cards, 2-1

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sports Writer

If Paul Richards still hopes to have pennant aspirations when he hits New York next weekend he better set up a base hit ration system for his "feast or famine" Chicago White Sox.

On Thursday the second place Sox broke out with this biggest barrage of the year—21 safeties that produced 17 runs at Boston. But last night at Washington the Sox managed only three hits off Bob Portierfield and got beat, 2-0.

The loss cost them a full game in the flag chase since the New York Yankees smothered St. Louis as expected, 11-5. Chicago now trails by 5½ games.

A shutout was in the books in Washington since the league's two most prolific shutout pitchers were facing each other. Virgil (Fire) Trucks, winner of eight straight since joining Chicago in mid-June, had pitched five scoreless games. So had Portierfield.

The Senators made certain in the first inning that they weren't the ones who were going to get white-washed. Jackie Jensen drove in one run with a double and scored the second on Jim Busby's single. Portierfield never gave the White Sox a chance. Only two men got as far as second and at one he retired 15 in order.

Seven of New York's runs against St. Louis were unearned as the bumbling Brownies committed four errors. Yogi Berra drove in three runs with a triple. Irv Noren drove in two more with another triple.

Cleveland, smarting from the sting of two defeats in New York, took it out on the Philadelphia Athletics to the tune of 12-6. Wally Westlake hampered five straight hits including a home run. The victory went to Dave Hoskins after Art Houtteman again failed to last.

Ralph Branca, the pitcher no club in the National League could use, won his second game for the Detroit Tigers, beating Boston, 5-3. The loss dropped the fourth-place Red Sox 10½ games behind New York.

Brooklyn finally broke its west-of-the-Mississippi jinx with a 2-1 squeaker over the Cardinals in St. Louis. It was the Dodgers' first triumph in six tries in the Cards' home park this season. Carl Erskine posted his sixth victory of the month.

By winning the Dodgers ran their National League lead to eight games over the Milwaukee Braves who bowed 5-1 to Robin Roberts in the first game of a twilight-night doubleheader. The second game, a scoreless pitching duel between Bob Miller and Max Surkont, was halted in the top of the 11th inning because of rain.

Roberts gave up just four hits in winning his 18th game, four more than any other pitcher in the majors. Del Enn's and Stan Lopata homered for the Phils.

Larry Jansen, who earns a good share of his New York Giant paycheck by beating the Cincinnati Redlegs, did it again, this time by a 9-2 margin. The victory was Jansen's 10th of the year and fifth over Cincinnati. His lifetime mark against the Reds is 24-3. Al Dark and Hank Thompson helped him with home runs.

After losing 2 of their last 26 games the Pittsburgh Pirates had the pleasure of meeting Chicago yesterday and they promptly whipped the Cubs, 4-0, on Murry Dickson's 8-hit pitching.

Browns File Suit To Retain Kissell

OTTAWA (AP)—The Cleveland Browns through their lawyer have asked for an Ontario Supreme Court injunction to restrain John Kissell, 250-pound lineman, from playing football with the Ottawa Rough Riders.

W. G. Burke-Robertson, lawyer representing the club, said the writ of summons seeking the injunction was issued yesterday.

Kissell allegedly signed contracts with both the Browns and the Ottawa football club.

Jim McCaffrey, president of the Ottawa club, said: "We'll fight to the limit to retain Kissell. He wants to play here and he'll play here unless the courts rule otherwise. The club will protect Kissell in every way."

Sterling Newell Jr., lawyer and acting secretary of the Browns said: "Kissell is our property. We renewed our option within the appointed time and he signed the contract. We'll go to court to see that Kissell honors the contract."

4 Teams Battle For Little Bigger Title

CINCINNATI (AP)—Four teams will battle it out today for a crack at the Ohio State championship of the Little Bigger Baseball League. Jefferson County meets Norwood this afternoon in the first semifinal game, with Steubenville, the defending state champion, taking on Cincinnati later in the day.

Forney Snares Feature Event At Canfield

Bill Forney of Youngstown, driving a brand new stock car racing job, snared the Canfield feature event in the midweek program and hopes to repeat in the Sportsman Division race tonight. This was Forney's second victory of the season at Canfield.

Bob James of Cuyahoga Falls, top man at Canfield in the feature victories division, has been pursued by hard luck for the past several weeks and has dropped to second position in the circuit standings. Mike Klapak of Warren is out in front with a comfortable 150 points. James has been on the verge of victory at Canfield several times in the past few weeks only to have his car conk out with mechanical difficulty.

A new MARC regulation insisting that engines must be in their original position will handicap some of the top drivers. Bob James and Dave Dangerfield of Youngstown are two drivers who will be affected by this ruling. Tonight is the last night that they can use the cars that have placed them in the victory circle so many times. Some drivers have placed their engines back nearly a foot.

Canfield expects another record breaking entry for tonight's card of stock car racing. The first event on the eight event program gets the green flag at 8:30.

Local Teams To Play At Waynesburg, Pa

Two Salem Little League teams will go to Waynesburg, Pa., tomorrow to play a double header with the Waynesburg Little League.

The trip was arranged by Little League president John Herman Jr. and Frank Ullom, president of the Quaker City Bus Lines. Ullom is donating busses for the trip. Jim Jackson is the manager of the Salem teams.

Both teams will meet at the Legion home at 8 a.m. The games will be played at 1 and 3 p.m.

The Salem teams are made up of both Major and Minor League players, not including All Star team members.

Jansen, Giants Whip Redlegs

New York Club Gets 9-2 Victory

CINCINNATI (AP)—Maybe last night's game wasn't necessary. Perhaps Cincinnati would have conceded it to New York beforehand if the Giants assured the Redlegs they planned to pitch Larry Jansen.

Jansen went out to the mound, went through the motions and gained credit for his 10th victory against seven defeats, this time by a 9-2 score.

Five of Jansen's triumphs this year have been over the Redlegs and his lifetime record against Cincinnati is 24 victories, 3 defeats.

The Rhinelanders got 12 hits off Jansen, only one less than starter Bud Podbielan and relief pitcher Joe Nuxhall allowed the Giants, but Hobie Landrith's homer with one on in the fourth was the only one that did any damage.

New York started an early honeymoon with Podbielan's fast ball. Al Dark hit his 11th homer and Don Mueller doubled in a run in the first inning.

Podbielan didn't last through the third as the Giants clipped him for three more runs on three singles and another double by Mueller.

The New Yorkers piled four more runs into the fifth inning, the big hits being Hank Thompson's 20th home run over the rightfield screen and Sam Calderone's three-run double.

CANADA VACATION BOOSTERS—Several members of the Salem Independent Hose Co. of Pershing St. in the past have invariably made a beeline for fish-teeming Canadian lakes as soon as vacation time rolled around, and this year was no exception.

Bottom left, Baker cleans fish in preparation for the evening meal and right, James Gregg shows off a day's catch which consisted of a bass and three pickerel, one of which measured 22 inches.

Several of the men have returned from their fishing jaunt but the others will remain in Canada the rest of this week.

North Ohio Is Best Bet For Good Fishing This Weekend

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Northern Ohio appears the best bet for fishermen this week, according to the state wildlife division's weekly stream and fishing report.

Most of the rest of the state's waters are cloudy or muddy but the bass, bluegills, catfish, perch and pickerel are biting up north.

The statewide report is:

Northeast—Summit County, normal, bass and bluegills taken in Portage Lakes. Trumbull County, lakes are high, streams low, some bass and bluegills taken at Mosquito Lake. Mahoning County, lakes are normal, streams are low, Walleyes, channel cats and carp being taken. Berlin Reservoir and Milton Lake, Walleyes averaging 17 inches. Geauga County, lakes normal, streams low. Bass and bluegills being taken at Punderson Lake. Huron County, lakes are clear, streams are normal, few crappies being taken at Norwalk Reservoir.

Ashland County, lakes are clear, streams are low, fishing fair. Bass at Charles Mill. Medina County, lakes clear, streams low and clear. Bass and bluegills taken at Chipewa Lake. Columbiana County, lakes and streams clear, bass, bluegills, perch and carp being taken at Guilford Lake. Richland County, lakes clear, streams normal. Some fish being taken at Clearfork.

Southwest—Greene County, all streams slightly roily and low, fishing poor. Strait Creek, clear and low. Grant Lake, bullhead fishing good, bass and carp, poor. Weekend outlook fair. Darke County, all streams roily and normal. Butler County, Miami River is clear, channel catfish, carp and bass. Fishing in the streams fair. Champaign, all streams are clear and normal. Fishing is fair. Kiser Lake, clear and normal, fishing is poor.

Montgomery, Twin Creek, Stillwater River and Miami River, are clear and low. Catching bullheads and catfish in stillwater River, bass in Miami River. Fishing fair in the streams. Clermont County, all streams are clear and low. Fishing fair.

Lorain County, clear and two inches below spillway. Catching bluegills and catfish. Outlook for the weekend is fair. Indian Lake, cloudy and four inches below spillway. Catching bluegills, catfish, bass a few walleyes and some carp.

East central and southeast—Athens County, Burr Oak Lake clear. Fishing poor. Guernsey County, fishing poor. Hocking County, all streams clear. Holmes

Toledo Sox Tounce St. Paul, 13-3

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Toledo Sox stamped past St. Paul 13-3 last night to maintain their American Association lead but couldn't shake the dogged Louisville Colonels who kept a half game off the pace with a 13-inning 4-3 victory over Charleston.

In other games, Kansas City beat Columbus 9-5 and Minneapolis beat Indianapolis 5-4.

Toledo's victory completed a sweep of the Sox's five-game series with St. Paul and big Gene Conley recorded his 16th victory in pitching the distance on an eight-inning allotment.

Westville Lakes Fishing Reported Poor To Fair

Fishing at the Westville Lakes during the past week ranged from poor to fair with relatively few good catches reported.

Carl Aeschlimann of Salem caught 12 bullheads last week.

Westville Lakes manager, Arthur Dundon said that the Propagation Lake would be open for fishing starting today.

The largest catfish caught to date was 33 inches long, the largest bass was 21½ inches, and the largest blue gill was 10 inches long.

Westlake Leads Tribe To 12-6 Win Over A's

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The terrific hitting of veteran Wally Westlake and the return of outfielder Harry Simpson gave a note of encouragement today to the sagging Cleveland Indians.

Obituary

Mrs. Joseph Blattman

LEETONIA — Mrs. Letitia Mae Blattman, 60, of 469 Pearl St. died at 11:50 p.m. Friday at the Salem City Hospital where she had been a patient for the past three weeks.

She was born in Leetonia Feb. 2, 1893, a daughter of John and Catherine Monk Woods. She was a member of St. Patrick's Church, the Altar and Rosary Society and the Ladies Catholic Benevolent Association.

She leaves her husband, Joseph J. Blattman, to whom she was married June 16, 1915; two daughters, Mrs. Lester Prentiss of Youngstown, and Mrs. Walter Leederle of Salem; one brother, Thomas of Cleveland; one sister, Mrs. Charles LePez of San Pedro, Calif., and four grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 9 a.m. Tuesday at St. Patrick's Catholic Church, with Rev. Fr.

W. W. Maund in charge. Burial will be in Mt. Calvary Cemetery. Friends may call at the Woods Funeral Home Sunday afternoon and evening and Monday evening.

James C. McConnor

Funeral services for James C. McConnor, 88, former Franklin Road resident who died at 2 a.m. Friday in the Kaiser Mercy Hospital in Oakland, Calif., will be held at 2 p.m. Monday at the Arbaugh - Pearce Funeral Home in charge of Rev. Carl Asmus.

Burial will be in Grandview Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Saturday afternoon and evening.

Mr. McConnor was born Oct. 1, 1864, on a farm on the Franklin Road, a son of Enoch and Mary McConnor. He resided in that home until four years ago when he went to Oakland to live with his grandson, Dean Smith.

Surviving him are four grandchildren, Dean Smith, Dr. Richard McConnor of Salem, Mrs. Howard Ashead of Eagle Rock, Calif., and Mrs. Burt Erickson.

Also surviving are seven great-grandchildren. Preceding him in death were his three children, Mrs. Edna Smith and Carl and Roscoe McConnor.

His wife, Mary Boyd, preceded him in death nine years ago. The couple had celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary before her death.

He was a member of the Salem Methodist Church and Perry Grange.

M. Nixon, thus assuring GOP control in both houses.

Some high Republicans, reportedly led by Sen. John W. Bricker are anxious for a change in Ohio law which now gives Lausche the right to choose a successor. It would require a special election to name Taft's successor within 120 days.

Under present law, whoever Lausche appoints to the vacancy caused by Taft's death will serve until after the 1954 election. Whoever is elected in 1954 will serve the last two years of the term.

There was considerable enthusiasm yesterday in the Legislature for the proposal. But, as the day wore on, a number of Republicans confided to newsmen they felt a GOP move to change the law to fit the present situation would be inadvisable.

The consensus seemed to be along this line: "It would be dirty pool to change the rules in the middle of the game. The present situation is an act of God. Let's let it go at that."

The first proposal, advanced yesterday morning within an hour of Taft's death, was for both a special primary and a special general election for senator.

Later, a compromise offered by Sen. Carl D. Sheppard (R-Summit) provided only for a special general election to pick a new senator. The candidates would be selected by the state central committees of the two parties. That action would replace the proposed special primary.

In 1820, when a salt well, located where Pittsburgh now stands, was deepened, natural gas was tapped, but no use could be found for the gas and the well was capped to prevent its becoming a nuisance.

QUIT INVESTIGATING GROUP. Democratic Senators John L. McClellan (left) of Arkansas and Henry M. Jackson of Washington announce they are resigning from the Senate Investigations subcommittee headed by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.). The third Democrat on the subcommittee, Stuart Symington of Missouri, also quit. The three said they resigned because Republicans on the group voted to give all hiring and firing power over subcommittee employees to McCarthy.

Ohio Assembly Breaks Off Its Work In Grief At Taft's Death

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The 100th Ohio General Assembly, gripped by the death of Sen. Robert A. Taft, abruptly broke off its work yesterday and postponed its final adjournment date one week.

The Republican-controlled Legislature suspended its operations almost in mid-air. Both subcommittee

Coroner Asks Probe Of Maruca Death

Columbiana County Coroner Ernest Sturgis today requested state mine inspection officials to probe the death of Ammie "Andy" Maruca, 37, West Point coal mine operator, who was electrocuted in his mine Thursday.

Sturgis ruled the death accidental.

Maruca, owner of the Power Point Coal Co. brushed against a trolley line as he was helping to remove a load of coal from the mine. He was killed instantly.

Funeral services for the mishap victim will be held Monday at 2 p.m. at the family home in West Point, with Rev. Paul Gerrard, pastor of the Lisbon Presbyterian Church, officiating. Interment will be in Lisbon Cemetery.

Friends may call at the residence this evening and anytime Sunday.

sidewalk and struck two cars parked in the yard at 525 N. Lincoln Ave. owned by Alex and Tom Yahanak.

Police said Mrs. Jones' car traveled 140 feet from the point where it went up over the curb until she was able to bring her car to a stop.

Mrs. Jones told police she thought she was injured but would wait until she got to her home in Cambridge where her husband, who is a doctor, would examine her and report her injuries to the police here.

Police said the front end of the woman motorist's car was completely demolished and considerable damage was done to the other cars and fixed objects.

In a freak occurrence, Russell S. Cole, 37, of Ashtabula, driving a truck for the Fuller Brush Co. of Ashtabula, told police a tree limb fell on top of his truck cab Friday afternoon.

He said he was driving south on Fair Ave. at 5:30 p.m. when a large tree limb snapped off and fell on the cab, injuring it. The driver escaped injury, police said.

Police reported a two-car collision at N. Ellsworth Ave. and Second St. at 4:05 p.m. Friday between autos driven by Patty Lee Fricke, 20, of Akron and Earl LeRoy Clay, 61, of RD 4, Salem.

Neither driver was hurt, investigating officers said, but considerable damage was done to both cars.

Ironton Morning Papers To Combine Tomorrow

IRONTON, Ohio (AP)—The two morning newspapers in Ironton will be combined, starting with tomorrow's edition.

Merger of the Courier and the Daily News was announced last night. The combined paper will be called the News-Courier.

The Courier started publication June 22. The Daily News was founded 54 years ago, but suspended publication for a while and resumed three months ago under new management.

General manager of the new firm, to be called the Ironton Publishing Co., will be Earl L. Sampson, general manager of the Courier. The two papers say they have a combined circulation of about 10,000.

An evening newspaper, the Tribune, also is published in this city of 15,851 population.

the Republican presidential nomination, then had pitched in to help discharge the White House responsibilities he himself had sought for so long.

More than any other thing, the 63-year-old Ohioan had wanted to follow the footsteps of his father, William Howard Taft, into the White House.

But with their differences buried for the sake of national and party unity, Taft and Eisenhower pulled together. By degrees there grew up a mutual respect, a golf course camaraderie and finally a warm friendship.

Taft's judgment in congressional timing and his peacemaking ability were accounted a tremendous asset for Eisenhower administration attempts to put through its program at its first legislative session.

From people who opposed him, as well as from his supporters, there were tributes.

Former President Truman, generally at odds politically with Taft, said his death was America's loss. Truman added:

"He and I did not agree on public policy, but he knew where I stood and I knew where he stood."

John L. Lewis and other union leaders, who often criticized the Ohioan and the Taft-Hartley Labor Relations Act he co-authored, mourned his passing.

"A tragic loss to America," said the mine workers' chief. "Honest difference of opinion is what makes America a great nation and it is what made Sen. Taft a great statesman and a great American."

AFL President George Meany said: "His sincerity and his courage in his convictions were respected by all his fellow citizens." CIO President Walter Reuther said: "He was an outstanding American who unstintingly followed a course of action that he believed best served his country."

In Europe, leaders of Britain, France and Italy quickly expressed their regret. Even Moscow radio, in a broadcast monitored in London, took note of Taft's passing, but in a one-sentence account:

"According to London radio, the prominent member of the U. S. Senate, Taft, died today."

and Greenland are only for the past year. Others are suspected to have occurred before that.

Only two such incidents during the last 12 months have been made public.

Last November, two F84 jet fighters, on patrol at 16,000 feet encountered an LA11-11—a Soviet made, propeller-driven fighter-bomber bearing Russian markings. The U. S. Air Force planes closed in and flew alongside the Russian aircraft until it crossed the international boundary, headed for home.

Last Feb. 17, two Russian planes of the same type were discovered by U. S. Air Force interceptors above Eastern Hokkaido. The Soviet planes made a firing pass. The two F84s returned the fire, with one of them hitting and apparently damaging one of the LA11s. Neither American plane was hit. The February incident was at least three miles inside the international boundary separating Japan from the Russian-held Kurile Islands, where the Red Air Force reportedly maintains big bases for fighters and long range bombers.

This contrasts with the Russian attack two days ago on the B50 which the United States contends was 40 miles beyond Soviet territory and far out over international water.

Survivor Tells Of Red Attack On U.S. Plane

TOKYO (AP)—"It was absolutely an unprovoked attack, 40 miles from Russian territory," said the co-pilot of an American B50 shot down at sea in a Russian jet attack off Siberia Wednesday.

Capt. John E. Roche, today directly contradicted Moscow charges that the big bomber and its 17-man crew were over Siberia near the Red naval base, Vladivostok, and that the Americans fired first.

Roche told a news conference: "We were definitely 40 miles from Russian territory. Our navigation is almost infallible. It was visual, Loran and Q13 (radar). We weren't any closer than 40 miles."

Roche, 28, said a MIG jet with Russian insignia flashed in and blasted one of the bomber's four engines. Then—so quickly that it might have been a different MIG—an engine on the other wing was shot up.

The right wing fell off and the big plane crumpled into the Sea of Japan. The crew was ordered to bail out.

Roche, of Washington, D. C., was the only crewman rescued by U.S. ships.

The U. S. State Department protested the attack to Russia and said it had information some of the 16 others had been saved by Russian vessels. However, Roche said he did not see any Red craft in the area.

Crew members of rescue planes which scoured the area said they saw several Russian PT-type boats which may have picked up other crew members.

Roche said the American destroyer Pickering, which plucked him from the sea on the pre-dawn darkness Thursday—22 hours after the crash—had stopped a Russian "trawler or tug boat" and questioned the crew, but saw no indication that it had any survivors aboard.

Damascus

Carol Lee Phillips was surprised at a party Tuesday evening in observance of her 16th birthday anniversary.

Games were enjoyed with prizes awarded Janet Stanley, Marcia Gregg and Naomi Headland. Carol Lee's father, Don Phillips, took the girls for a ride in his airplane. Lunch was served with green and yellow appointments with a decorated cake the center of attraction.

Ten guests present from Damascus, Alliance and Salem, honored Carol Lee with gifts.

A picnic supper was the main feature of the annual outing for the Damascus Magazine Club on Wednesday evening at Silver Park. Visiting occupied the time for the 43 persons present.

The next regular meeting will be Sept. 30 at the home of Mrs. Earl Santee.

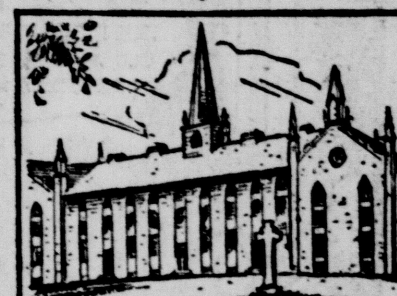

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Eckenrood of Bradenton, Fla., Irvin Eckenrood of Cleveland, Mrs. Florence Helwig and Mrs. Ruby Thomas of Elyria spent Tuesday with their brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Eckenrood, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Jenkins and Linda joined the group in the evening.

Rev. Owen Glassburn preached at the Friends Quarterly Meeting in Lupton, Mich. over the weekend, and will hold evangelistic services in Battle Creek, Mich. the week of Aug. 2.

Taft Called 'Apostle Of Honesty' By Chaplain

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate's chaplain, the Rev. Frederick Brown Harris, today praised the late Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) as a "public servant who was an apostle of honesty in whom was no guile or shadow of duplicity or expediency—who could be counted upon to say what he meant and to mean what he said without fear or favor."

The chaplain included this in the session today. He returned from a vacation to deliver the prayer for Taft.

PAYS TRIBUTE TO TAFT

Congressman Wayne L. Hays of the 18th District of Ohio said on the floor of the House of Representatives Friday that in the passing of Senator Taft Ohio had lost one of her outstanding citizens and the nation an able political leader. The congressman said that he had always had the greatest respect for Senator Taft's ability, forthrightness and integrity.

The congressman expressed his deepest sympathy to Mrs. Taft and members of the late senator's family.
